French Forces Arrive in Cyprus In Step Linked to Suez Crisis

BEING TAKEN IN—John Dioguardia, alias Johnny Dio, considered to be one of the most powerful racketeers in the country, is escorted into Federal Court in New York by two unidentified FBI agents. He was arraigned, along with his brother Tommy and some other men, in the Victor Riesel case. (NEA Telephoto)

Mrs. Miranti Held

Is Material Witness in Riesel Case

New York, Aug. 30 (AP)—The wife of an alleged coconspirator in the acid attack which blinded labor columnist Victor Riesel has been held in $100,00 bail as a material witness in the case.

Mrs. Leni Miranti was arraigned yesterday before U. S. Commissioner Earle N. Bishopp. The high bail was set assertedly for her own protection and because she heard conversations pertaining to the acid throwing.

'Don't Know,' She Says

Thomas B. Gilchrist Jr. chief assistant U. S. attorney, told the court: "We want to protect her from bodily harm. She's a witness . . ."

Mrs. Miranti interruped the attorney's remarks, saying, "I don't know what I'm a witness to."

The woman's husband Gondolfo Miranti, 37, was arrested Aug. 17 along with Joseph P. Carlino, 43, each held in $100,000 bail and charged with conspiracy in the assault last April 5 on Riesel as he emerged from a Broadway restaurant.

Abraham Telvi, described as the acid thrower, was found slain July 28 on a lower east side street.

The government charges that the 41-year-old Riesel was attacked to prevent him from testifying before a federal Grand Jury probing labor recketeering.

Telvi Upped Fee

Telvi assertedly was given $500, and promised $500 more, to do the acid throwing. When he learned the identity of his victim, the prosecution contends, he upped his fee to $50,000 and signed his own death warrant.

Arrested Tuesday and arraigned yesterday in the case were Johnny Dio, 42, labor racketeer and accused mastermind in the plot against Riesel; Charles Tuso, 44; Domenic Bando, 47; Charles Carlino, 43 (no relation to Joseph Carlino); and Dio's brother Thomas, 40.

Thomas Dio was held in $75,000 bail, Johnny Dio and the three others in $100,000 bail. All are scheduled for a hearing next Wednesday.

Johnny Dio was taken to the city prison; his brother to the federal house of detention; Carlino to the Bronx county jail; and Bando and Tuso to the suburban Westchester county jail.

Penalties Listed

Authorities refused to say why the men were sent to different jails.

If convicted on the conspiracy charges, each man would face five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

U. S. Atty. Paul W. Williams, who has commented on the murder angle in the rubbing out of Telvi, yesterday told newsmen:

"I am not trying to make out a murder case. If there is any evidence of murder it certainly would be a matter I would refer to (Dist. Atty. Frank) Hogan because I cannot prosecute for murder."

Others involved in the Riesel case are Leo Telvi, 26, brother of the slain man; Mrs. Norma Carlino, Joseph Carlino's common-law wife; and George Moore of (234 S. Bruce street) Youngstown, Ohio. All had been held as material witnesses. Moore's bail has been set at $50,000, the others at $100,000 each.

Link Opens Friday, Big Rush Seen

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 30—The last link of the Buffalo-New York Thruway opens at 4:30 p. m. Friday and the Thruway Authority predicted record traffic over the 427-mile route during the long Labor Day weekend.

Barricades closing off the final connection to the Major Deegan Expressway at the New York city line will be removed in time for the expected surge of city dwellers bound for the Catskills, the Adirondacks and other upstate resort regions.

Heavy Traffic Forecast

Three northbound and two southbound express lanes will open tomorrow afternoon. The third southbound lane will be placed in service Monday to facilitate the return of weekend vacationists to their homes in New York city.

B. D. Tallamy, Thruway Authority chairman, forecast unprecedented traffic on the superhighway, due to the combination of a long holiday weekend and the opening of the final link to New York city.

Appeals for Caution

He appealed to motorists to use extra caution in heavy traffic, to obey all signs and posted speed limits and to stay in the right lane except when passing.

In anticipation of extremely heavy traffic, Capt. Robert V. Annett of the State Police Thruway Detail placed his men on 12-hour shifts from noon tomorrow until noon next Tuesday. The order has the effect of doubling the coverage at all Thruway posts during the weekend.

To Use Helicopter

A helicopter, equipped with a "walkie-talkie" tied in with the Thruway communications network, will be based near the Harriman Interchange. Holden A. Evans Jr., the Authority's general manager, and Captain Annett will observe traffic movements from the whirlybird and assist in the orderly flow of vehicles on the heavily-traveled Thruway section between Harriman and New York.

At Least 9 Die In Plane Crash

Kodiak, Alaska, Aug. 30 (AP)—A flaming Canadian Pacific airlines DC6B crashed on bleak, desolate Unimak island at the tip of the Alaska peninsula last night, killing at least nine of the 22 persons aboard.

The search and rescue unit at Kodiak Naval station said there were seven known survivors. Six persons were unaccounted for. Several of the survivors were reported to have suffered serious injuries.

Names Not Known

The names of those aboard the craft, bound for Tokyo from Vancouver, B. C., were not known.

(The Canadian Pacific airlines office at Vancouver said 10 of the passengers were orientals and four were westerners.)

Cmdr. W. W. Clark, executive officer at the naval station, said the DC6B, seven hours out of Vancouver, went down at 9:58 p. m. (Kodiak time).

The pilot of the ill-fated craft, Clark said, radioed Cold Bay, Alaska, just before the crash that his ship was on fire. He did not give the cause.

Clark said the airliner smashed to the ground near the shore of Unimak island.

Two amphibian planes, one from here and one from Adak, and two ships were searching for the persons still missing. The hunt was being hampered by extremely bad weather common to this area.

Each of the search planes carried a doctor and medical supplies.

14 Were Passengers

Clark said 14 of those aboard the plane were passengers. Eight were crewmen.

The crash scene was about 500 miles southwest of Kodiak.

Canadian Pacific maintains a refueling station at Cold Bay, 45 miles to the northwest of Unimak island, which is separated from the Alaska peninsula by a thin strip of water.

Clark said at least four of the survivors were injured to such an extent that they could not be moved without a doctor's aid. Clark said the injured would be flown to Elmendorf Air Force Base at Anchorage.

Traffic Plan Map

Intention of the association also is to make it easier for visitors coming from out of town.

Warships in Movement To Colony of British

Three Troopships Are Due Tomorrow In Armada of Requisitioned Vessels

London, Aug. 30 (AP) — First elements of French forces assigned to Cyprus because of the Suez crisis were reported to have arrived on the island by air today. Usually reliable sources said others were moving to the eastern Mediterranean British bastion by an armada of requisitioned ships.

French foreign office and defense department officials refused to confirm or deny the reports, widely published by Paris newspapers. They declined to publicly go beyond a foreign office communique which said the British government had agreed to a French request to temporarily station a contingent of French troops on Cyprus.

Movement Confirmed

A highly placed Paris source, however, gave a reporter to understand that the troop movement had in fact begun.

The vanguard was reported to have arrived at dawn today by planes, landing in the southwestern part of Cyprus.

Other elements were believed to be aboard a mixed flotilla of passenger ships and freighters requisitioned by the government in the past eight days. Three warships were reported in the movement.

Unofficial sources on Cyprus said the three troop-carrying warships are expected to arrive tomorrow at the island's south coast port of Limassel. Two tent camps have been prepared there.

Britain and France announced agreement early today for the temporary stationing of French troops in the colony, Britain's main Middle-Eastern bastion within striking distance of Egypt.

Eden on Holiday

But British Prime Minister Eden showed no sign that he expected urgent decisions to be required soon in the Suez dispute. He left London for a short vacation at his private country cottage in Wiltshire. He will be away until Tuesday night. Aides said it is his first real holiday since Parliament recessed for the summer a month ago.

The announcement that Britain had consented to French use of the British island base only 250 miles from the Suez Canal was made as the Egyptian press, apparently with official sanction, whipped up charges that an alleged British spy ring plotted a coup against President Nasser.

Two More Named

Cairo authorities said two more Britons—seven in all—had been named by James Swinburn, alleged ringleader of the plot. Egyptian newspapers reported Swinburn had confessed that the group planned to stir up a revolt like that which overthrew Premier Mohammed Mossadegh of Iran in 1953.

The storm clouds blew up even as Nasser set a date and place—next Monday in Cairo—for his meeting with the five-nation Suez committee. Headed by Australian Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies, the committee is to present the U. S.-sponsored plan for international control of the canal which 18 of the 22 nations at the London conference endorsed.

Nasser seized the canal for his government July 26, and the British and French have been preparing ever since to take military action in case a peaceful compromise cannot be worked out or their citizens in Egypt are endangered by some incident.

The announcement in London and Paris that Cyprus would become a joint miliary base in the crisis was made as Britain faced

Steel Firm Will Move

Jay Products Going to Town of Ulster

Over the coming weekend Jay Steel Products, Inc., which for the past three years has been located at 37 Mill street, will move its warehouse, shop and show rooms to its new location on Morton Boulevard, town of Ulster, at the West Shore railroad Saugerties road overpass.

Rail Siding Planned

Jay Steel Products, Inc., which is operated under the partnership of Walter Jeghers and Michael Lucchese, has leased from Hartford Shultis Jr., two newly constructed buildings with over 8,000 square feet of space.

The buildings were designed and erected under specifications for the firm. Located adjacent to the West Shore railroad, a siding will later be added to provide direct unloading facilities for structural steel and other supplies.

To Open Tuesday

All business will be conducted from the new location beginning next Tuesday, Jeghers said.

Both members of the firm have long been identified with the construction and building business.

Mr. Jeghers for several years was associated in business with his father at Rosendale where they operated a lumber yard and building supply business and later he was associated for seven years with the Ashley iron firm in this city.

Mr. Lucchese for 24 years was foreman of the boiler shop of the Cornell Steamboat Company and has been associated with the iron working industry in this area for over 39 years. During the war he was in charge of all metal work at the Hiltebrant yards, including layouts, etc.

Became Partners

At the close of the war he and Jeghers entered into partnership and now carry on a general steel business, employing seven men in the fabrication and erection of iron work.

The firm is a direct buyer from Bethlehem, Jones & Laughlin and Pittsburgh Steel Products and carry a line of structural steel, plates, sheets, bars, reinforcing bars, reinforcing wire mesh, anchor bolts, Dur-O-Wal reinforcing, driveway curbing, lally columns, corrugated area walls, foundation ventilators, threshold steel, brass and aluminum, Tel-O-Posts.

Carry Rolled Steel

They also carry the most varied stock of cold rolled steel between New York and Albany, supplying local concerns with rounds from ⅛ to 4 inches in diameter, flats, hexagons and shieets from 11 through 22 guage.

Last year, following the disastrous floods in the upper Rondout and Esopus valleys, Jay Steel Products, Inc., rose to the emergency and supplied between 160 and 200 tons of structural steel for eight bridges destroyed by the flood when Shanahan Construction Company was called upon to replace the damaged bridges.

The firm also handles various windows including aluminum, awning, casement, double hung, jalousie, horizontal sliding, basement, utility, steel windows for residences and also commercial, Kalamein fire doors, "ABC" aluminum sliding glass doors, American sanitary metal toilet

Plan 1,761,000 Autos

Detroit, Aug. 30 (AP)—The auto makers are scheduling production of 1,761,000 passenger cars for the final three months of the year, Wards Automotive Reports says in its current issue.

If this figure is realized the total for the year would come to some 6,025,000 according to current estimates.

Subject to Revision

The indicated output for October-November-December, of course, is subject to revision. It would be a sharp drop from the nearly 1,950,000 new cars built in the final quarter of 1955, the industry's record year.

Ward's calls the production program for this year's final three months a "more conservative approach to the 1957 auto market." Thus, the agency adds, "the auto makers are pointing towards a more workable stockpile of 525,000 to 625,000 new cars heading into the new year. * * * New car stocks at the end of 1955 totaled 735,000."

Ward's continues:

"Indicating the general agreement in industry opinion as to October-December production prospects, GM is pointing its final assemblies 14 per cent below a year ago; Chrysler indicating a fall-off of about two per cent and Ford Motor Co. 9 per cent. * * * *

"One factor explaining the lower level of expected fourth quarter car output is the later '57 model introduction dates occurring at most producers. The new Fords will bow nearly two weeks later than last year, all Chrysler Corp. lines two weeks, Mercury and Lincoln a month later, with Buick, Oldsmobile, Pontiac averaging a week later.

Check on 'Bargains'

"Moreover, the new model production buildup at many companies will be protracted, initial volume assemblies in some instances being preceded by two weeks of pilot model operations and, before that, by factory inventory closedowns."

Ward's also says that some "bargain hunters," waiting for what they think will be the opportune time to buy outgoing 1956 models, "may be sadly disillusioned."

"Looming ahead for September and October," the agency says, "is a car shortage in many popularly priced lines. Dealers, if only for a short time, will again be in a position to argue prices."

To Help Dealers

The over-all situation, Ward's says, "perhaps reflects an attempt by the car makers to return their dealers to a more secure profit position, or to put more punch into the 1957 sales-output-employment cycle, as well as offset any sales retarding effect of a price increase-credit squeeze."

Compromise Reported in Power Plans

New York, Aug. 30 (AP) — A compromise is reported in the differences between Gov. Averell Harriman's administration and the state power authority over plans for development of Niagara River power.

Another closed conference on the issue was held here yesterday.

The only official announcement forthcoming was a statement by Harriman's counsel, Daniel Gutman, who said: "we are making progress and expect to reach a satisfactory agreement soon."

Power authority chairman Robert Moses has been opposed by Harriman and former Gov. Charles Poletti, a member of the authority, on certain aspects of the authority's recent application to the Federal Power Commission (FPC) to develop the Niagara power project.

The authority's application followed the thinking of Moses, who attended a conference Tuesday but was not present at yesterday's session.

The Harriman-Poletti objection was largely against guarantees and license extensions which the authority's application to the FPC granted to the Niagara Mohawk Power Corp.

The critics of Moses' plan contended the state should seek to take over the water rights which Niagara Mohawk now holds but is unable to use since its power plant at Niagara Falls was destroyed by a rock slide.

A representative of Niagara Mohawk joined representatives of the power authority and of Harriman at yesterday's conference.

Poletti, Gutman and William S. Chapin, general manager of the power authority, indicated that the authority and Harriman were now "pretty much in line" on procedure for amending the authority's application to the FPC.

Poletti said as he left the meeting that "some drafts" of proposed amendments to the FPC application were drawn up and most of the negotiators now have to clear them with their superiors.

Poletti said Lauman Martin, vice president and general counsel of Niagara Mohawk who attended the meeting, was taking an amendment draft back to his company.

It was reported unofficially that most of the bargaining at the session was on details that

Mayor, AAA Will Launch Safety Drive

The Automobile Club of New York's 11th annual "School's Open" campaign will officially get underway in Ulster county Friday, Aug. 31, at 10:45 a. m. when Mayor Frederick H. Stang attaches the first of 500 posters to be put on display in Ulster county as a reminder to motorists to drive carefully.

Participating with Mayor Stang in the brief ceremony at the City Hall will be Martin Klein, assistant secretary of the auto club, and local police officials.

Posters Bear Message

More than 23,000 of the colorful posters bearing the message "School's Open—Drive Carefully," will be mounted on utility and street poles at major street intersections and school crossings throughout the area to coincide with the resumption of classes within the next few days. Schools reopen in Kingston next Tuesday Sept. 4.

As an additional reminder to motorists to use extra caution because more children will be on the streets on their way to and from school, more than 120,000 bumper strips will be distributed by the auto club for display on commercial vehicles and buses, official cars, school buses and passenger automobiles.

Fewer Deaths Noted

The campaign has been conducted annually by the auto club since 1946. During September and October last year, traffic deaths among children in the 5-to-14 age group declined 43 per cent in New York state as compared with the corresponding period in 1945, despite a substantial increase in the number of registered cars on the road and the steady growth of the school population.

Ruffner, Roosevelt to Be There

GOP Picnic to Feature Entertainer and FDR's Son

Edmund B. "Tiny" Ruffner of High Falls, nationally known radio and television personality, will act as master of ceremonies at the annual picnic at Sportsmen's Park, Rosendale, Sunday, Sept. 16, sponsored by the New Paltz Republican Club.

John Roosevelt of Hyde Park and Dallas, Tex., youngest son of the late Franklin Delano Roosevelt, will be the principal speaker.

Star of Big Shows

Mr. Ruffner was for many years a daily visitor in the homes of many Americans by way of radio and television, beginning his long career in show business as a concert singer and radio entertainer and announcer on the West Coast.

His steady rise in popularity brought him into all phases of the industry, including performing, selling, producing and advertising. Some of the more famous and long-running of these shows he created himself, such as "Showboat" with Lanny Ross, "Town Hall Tonight" with the late Fred Allen, "Palmolive Beauty Box" featuring celebrated beauties and actresses, "The Atwater Kent Hour," "The Ziegfield Follies" with the late Fanny Brice and the "Camel Hour, with Morton Downey.

'TINY' RUFFNER

Marries Beauty Queen

In 1938 he met a young beauty contest winner in Hollywood who had traveled to the west coast as an Earl Carroll Vanities star and as a winner of the title, "Miss Brooklyn," and in 1939 Mr. Ruffner married Betty Ghear. They took a two-year honeymoon traveling in South America.

After this semi-retirement, his dynamic nature and keen interest in the industry impelled him to return to the business he knew and loved and he began to free-lance in radio. During the period 1941 to 1948 he did 21½ hours a week simultaneously from Chicago, Philadelphia, New York and Boston by the process of taping these shows one day each in the various cities. After 1948 he gave up this activity to enter television, doing a 45-minute show on ABC while still doing the old radio audience participation show in Philadelphia.

Retires at High Falls

This hectic, exciting and interesting career ended with his decision to retire for good in 1953.

Mr. Ruffner now lives in retirement on his country estate in High Falls with his wife and two children. His hobbies are gardening, a low golf score and reading the books he never had time to read before.

He is active in civic affairs, a warden of his church and a member of the High Falls Volunteer Fire Company.

Mass Use of Vaccine Could Eliminate Polio Epidemics by End of Next Year

New York, Aug. 30 (AP)—Epidemic polio can be eliminated by the end of next year by mass use of Salk vaccine, says the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Basil O'Connor, foundation president, said yesterday in his annual report:

"When the (Salk) vaccine is produced and released in sufficient numbers of people, we think epidemic polio will be eliminated...

"If all concerned cooperate... we can see it happen in the United States by the end of 1957."

O'Connor's report stressed the value of the third vaccine injection—the booster dose given seven months or more after the first two primary injections.

In Washington, the Public Health Service said today that the states reported 943 new polio cases in the week ended Aug. 25.

This was the lowest total for the comparable week in any year since 1947, when there were 531, and was far less than half the 2,287 for the 1955 week.

The 2,287 in the 34th week of last year, as the health service counts them, was the peak for any week of 1955.

There had been only 6,964 cases reported for this disease year from April 1 through Aug. 25, which was just slightly more than half the 13,072 in the similar 1955 period.

A health service spokesman said the peak week for 1956 may come at any time, based on past years.

Chicago continued to be the only place with a severe outbreak of cases, but the number there dropped for the second successive week. There were 100 cases for the week ended Aug. 25 and 133 in the previous week.

"Information has been received that a larger proportion of the cases in Chicago are now occurring outside the high epidemic area," the service said.

"Incidence in the state of Illinois exclusive of Chicago is still rising."

Illinois listed 167 cases last week, the only state with more than 85. California had 85, Iowa 68 and Texas 50.

A year ago for the week Massachusetts had 355, Wisconsin 353, New York 238 and four other states had more than 85.

For this calendar year there had been 8,031 cases through Aug. 25, compared with 14,135 a year earlier.

Has Message on Israel

Haganah Captain to Speak Tonight

Guest speaker at tonight's Kingston State of Israel bond committee meeting will be Victor Ben-Nachum, a captain in Haganah, the army of Israel, during the war of independence.

The meeting to promote the sale of bonds for Israel is scheduled for 8 o'clock at the home of Joseph Levine, 105 Mountain View avenue.

Joseph Honig is chairman of the local committee for the bond sale.

Chairman Honig said that Mr. Ben-Nachum, a native of Israel, arrived in the United States a short time ago.

"He is a man who speaks with authority on the current situation facing the State of Israel," Mr. Honig said, "and will be able to present an eye-witness account of the progress and the needs of his homeland."

Chairman Honig urged that the Israel bond program be supported by the community since the economic well-being and the security of 1,700,000 persons living in Israel depends in great measure on the sale of the bonds.

Tonight's meeting at the Levine home is one in a series of functions scheduled during the 1956 Israel bond campaign here.

Probing Boy's Death In Gas-Filled Home

Plattsburgh, N. Y., Aug. 30 (AP)—District Attorney Thomas R. North of Clinton county said today he was continuing an investigation into the death of an eight-year-old boy found in a gas-filled apartment with his mother unconscious near him.

North said he planned to question Mrs. Albina King about the death of her son, Maurice King Jr., 8.

She was reported in satisfactory condition at Physicians Hospital, where the boy had been pronounced dead on arrival.

Police said they found the gas jets of a kitchen stove open when they broke into the apartment after being called by neighbors.

Big Producer

Saskatoon (AP)—Saskatchewan led all other provinces and territories in muskrat production in Canada last year with trappers pelting 1,951,800 animals, a provincial record. Harold Read, northern game supervisor here, said the pelts brought $2,127,462.

No Hiding Place

Jacksonville, Fla. (AP)—Frank Goetsch, service station attendant, requested a change to day duty after he survived several nighttime holdups. Soon after Goetsch reported for work one morning, a robber flashed a gun and took $35.

Business School To Form Classes Tuesday, Sept. 4

Classes will be formed in both secretarial and accounting divisions of the Moran-Spencerian School of Business, 237 Fair street, starting Tuesday, Sept. 4.

The school office is open daily for advance registration.

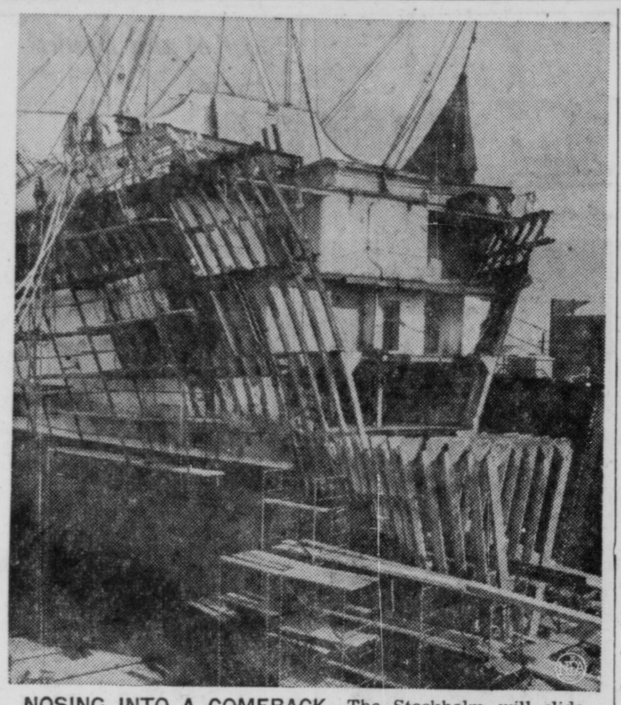
To meet the demands on its free office employment service, the Moran-Spencerian School would need several times the number of students enrolled each year. Reliable estimates indicate that more than a half million additional trained workers are needed in offices throughout America—and this despite the fact that basic salaries paid today have reached new highs.

There is a wide open field of opportunity for young men and women in business today. Nowhere else is intelligence recognized more quickly and rewarded more generously. Every type of business — industrial, financial, mercantile—is constantly on the alert for well-equipped young people with character and ambition, people whom it can train to take the places of today's executives who will soon retire.

The number of top executives who started as stenographers, bookkeepers, and accountants is surprising. A recent example is found in the record of E. J. Thomas, who entered the employ of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company as stenographer at the age of 17. Recently, Mr. Thomas became chairman of the board of directors, the chief executive officer of this, the world's largest rubber company, succeeding the man whom he served as secretary in 1918.

The training program of the private business school is geared to the needs of business. Given the trainees, the business schools of America could speedily develop well-trained office workers in sufficient number to maintain a steady flow of skilled personnel into the channels of business and government. There is probably nothing finer as a career than becoming an important part of business service.

The Salvation Army first was set up in England by General William Booth and introduced into America in 1880.



NOSING INTO A COMEBACK—The Stockholm will slide back into the water as good as new by November, according to the men who are giving her a new nose in the Bethlehem Steel Company yard in New York. The 75-foot section of her bow is being rebuilt at a cost of $950,000. The same heavy ice-breaking bow—which sent the Andrea Doria to the bottom on July 26—will be reproduced in the new section with 300 tons of steel.

No Shortage

Chillicothe, Ohio (AP) — The teacher shortage is no fault of Mrs. Elizabeth Barton, 91. Her eight children all are or were teachers and five of them married teachers. Eleven grandchildren teach school and six more are studying to become teachers. Mrs. Barton herself never taught school. But her husband did, and his father and mother did, too.

Sober Story?

Philadelphia, Pa. (AP)—Police are looking for Mrs. Rose Petrella'e pink elephant. It was stolen from her front lawn. But Mrs. Petrella doesn't think it should be too hard to find. It weighs about 200 pounds and was wrapped in a two-foot tall iron frame on a concrete base with spikes driven into the ground.

Dollar Sale

Fort Pierce, Fla. (AP)—There were no strings to the offer—but a store which tried to sell 100 silver dollars for 88 cents each didn't dispose of a single one. The silver dollar sale was intended as an advertising stunt. The store manager figured people just didn't think the 12-cent profit was worth bothering about.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, AUGUST 30, 1956

TEEN-AGE GANGS

Recently in New York City representatives of two warring teen-age gangs, several clergymen, social workers and a former assistant United States attorney met in a secret session to work out a peace treaty between the two gangs.

The adults who met with these violent youngsters are to be commended for their interest and their patience, even though the police took a dim view of their efforts. It is far better to try to prevent trouble than it is to deal with a situation after something has happened.

But it is frightening to think that in a great city like New York such a conference is necessary. Has law enforcement in the area where the two gangs operate broken down?

Can neither the police nor the parents control the young hoodlums? Has it reached the point where teen-age gangs are so powerful that they must be recognized as forces to be dealt with on their own terms? Isn't it somewhat ridiculous to have to speak about attempts at keeping these gangs from each other's throats as "peace conferences?"

The problem of juvenile delinquency in many parts of our land is far more serious than most of us realize. In a few short years the teen-age toughs will be adults. If they are undisciplined now what will they be like then? It is time for all of us to pay some real attention to the problem. It won't just go away.

WELCOME PROBLEM

In just a few weeks now, as trees show the first sign of autumn color and crisp, cool days descend on the land, American colleges and universities will be receiving a flood of returning students and a new crop of freshmen.

All over the nation there are reports of rising college enrollments. Some college candidates have made applications at as many as 10 different colleges before finding one that had room for them. Many schools report registrations up as much as one-third.

Statisticians have known for a long time that America's educational resources will be taxed severely for at least the next 20 years and perhaps longer. A rising national birth rate, going back into the late 1930's, has meant a steadily increasing demand for higher education.

But even with all the problems this presents — problems of financing, of teacher training and supply, of housing and new facilities—isn't it something the nation should be thankful for? Isn't it, at least in part, a kind of fulfillment of the American dream?

We agree with Dr. C. H. Faust, president of the Fund for the Advancement of Education, when he says: "We should have much greater reason for foreboding if our birth rate and the interest of our young people in education were declining, for we should then face the prospect of drying up our resources of skill and wisdom."

TRUMAN LOST BEFORE

It was no new experience for former President Truman when he did not get the Democratic presidential and vice presidential candidates that he wanted. He has had bad luck in his own state of Missouri.

He might be expected to have a powerful say in choosing candidates in his own state. Yet both Democratic senators, Thomas C. Hennings, Jr., and Stuart Symington, were nominated in the party primary after he had come out strongly for their opponents.

The Truman experience is one more example of a political fact—that power is not a constant, but a shifting, changing thing. Those who had political power yesterday cannot necessarily wield it today; those who have it today may not have it tomorrow.

Drive carefully over Labor Day and your chances of being around to enjoy the next legal holiday will be improved.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

A NEW GENERATION

What both the Chicago and San Francisco Conventions established is that a new generation has taken over in this country and that that generation has a different outlook from the generation that was politically active in 1932 or even in 1952. The generation now in command had a tough start in life because it reached maturity during the Depression; it had a tough time getting started; then it went to war.

If those of this generation went into business, they usually found that there would be greater security in big business than to pioneer with small enterprise. If they went into labor, they were no longer operating in small, idealistic, socialistic unions, but in enormous organizations of men requiring technical managerial capacity. There may be less toughness in these men; there may be less of the robust, less hell-raising, but they are skillful operators in their own generation.

The New Deal was a revolutionary concept. The present generation is not revolutionary. It seeks to be efficient, but it has no desire to remake anything. Neither Eisenhower nor Stevenson is a Franklin D. Roosevelt, or even a Robert A. Taft. They are not extremists of the Left or of the Right. They both describe themselves as moderates, a characteristic which they do not define, because neither is a philosopher. Both reject the significance of the pull toward Marxism which characterized the 1930's and the early 1940's. The moderates are opposed to Communism for the United States, but they do not regard it as a present menace in this country. They accept Soviet Russia as a peril, but make no attempt to understand the international Communist movement and most of their associates do not really believe that it exists and if it does exist, it is not important.

The fact is that these are smiling, affable people who have escaped the 1930's and 1940's and are pleased that they have. There was not a speech at either the Democratic or Republican Convention which contained either the promise of the New Deal or a renunciation of it. Rather the attack was on the practical accomplishments of the Eisenhower Administration or a defense of them. Except as personalities were involved, there was not much excitement or even enthusiasm at either convention. We witnessed in both the operations of the cult of personality.

It is interesting to watch a new and different generation finding itself and to try to understand what it really means. In the 1920's, Americans believed that this is God's country and that everybody could become a millionaire if he hit the market right. The 1920's were also the era of Prohibition and of the racketeer and the flapper. It was the period when "anything goes."

In the 1930's that was all over. Everybody thought that he was broke. The United States was a terrible disappointment. It was a period when Communists and Technocrats and Fascists exhibited their wares. It was a period when young Americans went to Spain (1936-39) to fight in a civil war in a country about which they knew nothing. It was a time when conservatives believed that the world was coming to the end and that Franklin D. Roosevelt was the devil incarnate.

Then came war and the new internationalism and Soviet Russia was actually an ally of the United States and whoever opposed Communism was a friend of Hitler and Mussolini and somebody that became famous as Tojo. It was an oppressive period, as wars always are, but even more so because the direction that the United States was taking was obscure.

But the amazing fact is that the country did not go to the dogs. Actually, by the 1950's, for most people the intricate problems of government and politics had become a bore, a repetitious bore. Who wants to hear the same talk for 20 years? So what the intellectuals like to call escapism took the place of life-and-death struggles. Nobody wants to struggle. This generation just wants to live. It wants a good time. It cooks steak on charcoals, outside in the backyard. It builds homes on Veterans or FHA mortgages. It is curiously an unafraid generation, but it does not expect to produce a crop of millionaires, what with current taxes. This generation wants to live—to live it up, as the expression is.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

SELECTING PATIENTS FOR NEUROSURGERY

Neurosurgery, as we have said before, is a form of treatment to be used when all other forms of treatment have proven ineffective. In what type of patient may we expect good results? From experience it has been found that good results may be looked for in seven types of patients. They are:

1. Those with a reasonably stable personality.
2. Those with reasonably good contact with reality.
3. Those with anxiety, fear or tension states.
4. Those with delusions or dominant ideas related to inner feelings of being inadequate, failures, social rejects, or feelings of guilt or fear of persecution, excessive concern about their health, too much meditation about themselves or feelings that they "must" do certain unnecessary things.
5. Those who are preoccupied with suicidal or other self-punishment thoughts.
6. Those who have been able to retain good personal and work habits.
7. Those who are able to "pull themselves together," even if for a short period, during the course of illness.

Patients who have weird delusions and continuous hallucinations are less likely to be helped by operation, although even these features can sometimes be modified by neurosurgical treatment. The degree of the sense of reality in contact with one's surroundings is an important consideration.

Patients who show lack of feeling, indifference, withdrawal and very unusual emotional responses respond poorly to surgery and, indeed, are frequently rejected for neurosurgical consideration.

What are the complications of neurosurgical treatment of psychiatric disorders? Fortunately, they are relatively infrequent. As a rule the after-operation course is uneventful; the patient makes good progress, gets out of bed within 48 hours, and eats three meals a day. Soon, the patient is able to take part in ward activities and can associate with other patients and staff members, is able to greet his family on visiting days and can read. Almost all patients have periods of lack of feeling and detachment which usually last for a few days but may persist for weeks or months. The mortality rate is relatively low, usually about 2 per cent. The most common immediate after-operation complications are hemorrhage, edema (the presence of abnormally large amounts of fluid in various parts of the body), infection, and inability to control bladder function. There may also be profound indifference and inertia. Convulsions are relatively rare.

Some of the long-term complications are persistent indifference or inertia, incontinence, behavior disturbances and severe epileptic-like seizures. The frequency of the seizures varies with the type of operation and the particular patient. The times at which seizures may develop ranges from a day or so to three years after operation, with the greatest frequency at four to six months. These seizures are readily controlled by phenobarbital and Dilantin.

Tomorrow we will consider some other effects that may come after neurosurgery. As we have said, mental disorders are on the increase and one never knows when they may affect one's self or a member of the family.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

Washington, (NEA)—Mrs. Arleigh Burke, wife of the chief of naval operations, is rapidly winning a reputation as the current hostess with the mostest. Invitations to Burke affairs have become the most sought-after in town.

Her secret is paying personal attention to the cooking and preparation of everything served, instead of turning it over to caterers.

She also makes it her business to see that every guest is having a good time.

Typical of the kind of thing the Burkes do was a recent party for junior naval officers. It gave the youngsters and their wives a chance to meet the big boss and went over with a real bang.

Mrs. Burke is now in the process of organizing a Navy wives' club and she turns over their big house, with spacious grounds, to young wives who have no other place to entertain.

IF THERE WAS any doubt about Perle Mesta losing her number 1 hostess rating here during the past year, it was ended by her party farce at the Democratic convention. As one socialite here puts it, "Perle and Harry Truman passed out of the picture together in Chicago."

FORTUNATELY FOR the Russian Ambassador Georgi Zaroubin, it has been a very cool summer. If it had been a typical scorcher, he might not have survived.

Zaroubin is hardly the gay-dog type, but he managed to plow through more social life than any ambassador in town. It must have been tough for him, too. He drinks very little, obviously finds it difficult to engage in cocktail party chit-chat, and really doesn't seem to like crowds very much.

Only time he seemed to be enjoying himself was one evening when he was poking fun at the proceedings of the national conventions to a group. He watched every second of them on TV.

As usual, the Indonesian independence day celebration was the high spot of the summer's social season, with guests hanging around the buffet table until three hours after the official 9 o'clock closing.

THE LAST BOTTLE of champagne was poured at 3 a. m. Also as usual, the hit of the evening was the native band and exotic native dancing girls.

Two last-minute guests were Sujono Djono and Abdulla Balbed, Indonesian lads hitch-hiking around the world, who just happened to hit Washington in time for the party.

When they showed up at the embassy that morning they were barefooted and attired in dusty native garb. That didn't bother Ambassador Moekerto Notowidigdo, however. He personally took both lads to the nearest department store and outfitted them with new suits, white shirts and shoes.

It's not that the ambassador would have been ashamed of them if they had come to the party the way they were. He just wanted them to feel more comfortable.

PARTY FOOD and drink trends to look for this fall:

Caterers keep track of what's eaten and drunk and what's not during a party. And they've discovered that one of the most popular new hors d'oeuvres is pizza. There's never any left over.

On the other hand, they report, the vodka craze might be tapering off. Guests are turning back to gin, it seems. Still more Scotch and champagne drunk at big receptions than anything else.

Nobody at the White House would give out a single official word on how the President's four grandchildren, David, Barbara Ann, Susan and baby Mary Jean, were doing while the parents and grandparents were in California.

White House servants took care of the children. But it did leak out that David and Barbara Ann rebelled at eating dinner in the big dining room where they were alone. So they ended up getting their meals served in a sitting room in the living quarters of the White House. After dinner they were allowed to watch the convention on TV.

One afternoon the children talked themselves into an impromptu picnic on the back lawn.

EMBASSIES of satellite countries are showing signs of trying to get out from under Russian dominance socially, if not politically, at home.

Other day, for example, the Romanians threw an independence day reception that left no doubt concerning their intentions.

Everything was strictly Romanian, from the booze to the buffet. Seven kinds of Romanian wine, four types of brandy and native champagne flowed the entire evening.

A local dish called "mititei" was served directly from a hot grill to guests. It's a highly seasoned ground-meat combination.

The lobster, pheasant, pork and chicken were prepared Romanian style by the embassy cooks.

Russian officials turned out in force, but they were obviously startled by bar and buffet strength shown by the Romanians.

Minds of Most 1956 Voters Believed Already Made Up

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Aug. 30—More than forty-three out of the forty-five months of the campaign to elect a President in November, 1956, have been completed—and judging by scientific surveys in past campaigns, a preponderant number of citizens have already made up their minds how they are going to vote.

Despite the hullabaloo of the autumn months just before a Presidential election, the impressions made upon the voters are based primarily upon what they have learned from the everyday news in the previous three years or more.

Thus, the campaign of 1956 for and against the re-election of President Eisenhower really began on Jan. 20, 1953, when he was inaugurated. The Democrats have revealed their strategy again and again. Though some partisan moves have been concealed by an outwardly professed concern for the public interest, there has been a noticeable awareness of the political factor in nearly every public question debated in the last three and a half years.

WHILE THE Democrats, for instance, railed against what they deemed the improper use of Congressional investigations in 1953 and 1954, they promptly turned around and used the same tactics when they got control of the committee chairmanships in 1955. All through the 1956 session of Congress, too, the Democrats tried to make political capital by criticizing almost every action taken by the Eisenhower administration. They kept up an almost continuous attack on foreign policy. They exaggerated every incident surrounding the voluntary resignation of a few officials as implying a taint of alleged corruption.

There was also a deliberate effort to minimize the importance of the Communist infiltration in the Democratic regime as exposed by Congressional committees.

These tactics were designed to render less effective the Republican weapons of the 1952 campaign, when Communism and corruption in government were dramatized as issues. The Democrats have since sought to show that "security risk" procedures were unnecessary and that there had been a loss of individual liberties. The stratagem worked well in "Left-Wing" circles.

It is not clear yet, however, how much progress was made elsewhere by the Democrats in sidetracking the communism and corruption issues. Voters are prone to forget some of the important controversies which four years before caused them to vote against a party in power. But there's one thing it takes a long while for people to forget—and that's corruption.

The scandals of the Truman administration are still remembered by the American people. It will be more important than ever for Adlai Stevenson to dissociate himself from the Truman regime, though among his advisers and conspicuous supporters are many of the former officials of the last Administration.

The day-by-day effect of the Alger Hiss hearings and trials has by no means been removed, nor has the conviction of Joseph Nunan, Collector of Internal Revenue under the Democratic administration, for personal income-tax evasion been forgotten. These are facts that sink in long before a political campaign is finally decided. Also, Harry Truman has never explained why, after Harry Dexter White was accused by the FBI, the President wrote White two fervent letters of commendation.

PERHAPS THE MOST important influence on the voter, however, is the weekly pay envelope. It makes an impression every week—long before the actual campaign opens. The Democrats used to say, "Aren't you better off than you were four years ago?" and their best slogan was, "You never had it so good!"

Then there's the military draft. The monthly calls now are low. The Democrats may cry, "There is no peace!" but, as long as the draft calls are small and American boys aren't fighting in foreign wars, the "peace issue" will help the Republicans.

These elemental points take hold throughout the period between elections. Campaign speeches with personal attacks on President Eisenhower—and intimations that the Democratic high command has some inside information from some higher place as to how long the President is going to lie—are not likely to prove effective.

IN 1952, President Truman made an attack on Gen. Eisenhower's integrity. It was part of the "give 'em hell" campaign which the Democrats denounce if a McCarthy becomes vehement, but which they cheer with enthusiasm when one of their own number employs character assassination. The voting public resents personal slurs against the nominees of either party, and often such attacks boomerang in favor of the man assailed.

Adlai Stevenson, for example, in his acceptance speech said that if he were elected and anything happened to him, "the people will have a new President they can trust." This was regarded by many who heard it as a slap at the integrity and honesty of Vice-President Nixon. Letters received here indicate it alienated a good many "independents" who had looked to Stevenson to begin his campaign on a higher plane.

While a minority of the voters may change their minds as a result of printed speeches and broadcasts during a campaign, the impression has grown among practical politicians that elections are really decided by opinions formed long before November. In fact, political campaigns are never over. Party warfare starts out anew the day after a President's inauguration.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

San Francisco, Aug. 29—Harry Lundeberg, the president of the anti-Communist sailors of the A. F. of L., is a fierce enemy of Joe Curran, the president of the C. I. O. sailors' union which was a Communist, pro-Soviet apparatus throughout the war. Curran and his union were an ally of Harry Bridges in all his long campaign to capture the Atlantic and Gulf coasts. Lundeberg is a naturalized American, born in Norway. Curran is a native American. But Lundeberg says, he chose the United States for his country whereas Curran had no choice and helped the Communist cause for years. Throughout the riots from 1936 on when Lundeberg was fighting bloody brawls on the Pacific waterfront Curran was his enemy. Even after the war, in 1946, Curran refused to sign a declaration against communism as well as nazi-fascism. This occurred at a meeting in San Francisco of the committee for maritime unity, a Communist front, of which Curran was president as long as it lasted.

In one of his national conventions in Cleveland, early in the war, Curran heaped terrible abuse on a rank-and-file sailor employed on an army transport sailing the Atlantic coast, for offering a resolution damning communism along with nazi-fascism. Curran pursued the sailor back to New York harbor, and fired him out of the union forever.

In the San Francisco conference, Lundeberg offered his declaration well knowing that Curran would squawk as Curran said he would not be a party to a witch hunt. This was consistent of him for he had written that the war was an imperialist aggression against the great democracies, Soviet Russia and Nazi Germany, until Hitler attacked Russia in the spring of 1941. Then it became "a people's war."

After the war, Curran sidled over to the anti-communist fold. Recently he has had the benefit of propaganda depicting him as a brave defender of the east and Gulf coast against Red filtration. Lundeberg flatly charges that this propaganda is bought, paid for and delivered through a corruption of the new phase of journalism which is referred to as "labor reporting." Lundeberg also expressed a belief, stronger than a mere suspicion, that Paul Hall, the president of his subsidiary district with jurisdiction over the Atlantic-Gulf coasts and with headquarters in New York, had paid for complimentary mention in print. Lundeberg said he believed that the political power of Dave Dubinsky's union of garment workers, which operates a splinter-party in New York, was responsible for the abandonment of charges against a number of goons from Hall's New York headquarters who had served as rioters, in union disturbances. Dubinsky's party, sometimes can cast 300,000 votes. It is a potential balance of power. Candidates count it.

"I know there were several beefs against Hall's people," Lundeberg said, "and I guess - - - - - (naming a notorious power in Dubinsky's party and union) must have squared them."

Now Hall's regional union is a subsidiary of Lundeberg's mother union which is chartered by the A. F. of L. as the seamen's international union. But the subsidiaries, seven in all, have absolute autonomy. So, if Hall wants to cooperate with Curran in the east and south for whatever reason he can do so. Today, Bridges is still trying to capture the New York waterfront and Lundeberg says he is making progress because George Meany, the president of the combined AFL-CIO, Dubinsky and Curran, supported by a noisy, sanctimonious propaganda, crushed Joe Ryan who had kept the Reds out for more than 20 years. When Ryan went down, betrayed and heart-broken by personal tragedies and treachery, the defenses against communism crumbled. Always the old, bloodied rampart fighters against the Reds go down while the Currans and Oppenheimers are cultivated and Alger Hiss lectures at Princeton. "Imagine that bum, Curran on a committee on ethics," Lundeberg exclaimed.

"The lousy papers are squawking that the underworld, the mob, is moving in on the waterfront. Those bums make me sick. Why dont they print the details? I know this racket and you can buy anything you can pay for. I am not in the market. I don't need their flatery. I am strictly a union man. I am not a labor statesman like Dubinsky or an internationalist like Reuther. I get $300 a week and a little insurance because I got dumped and stabbed in a big beef and then some communist louse took a shot at me. Joe Ryan was a great fighter and he kept the Reds out of New York harbor until they dumped him, and now they put Curran on a committee on ethics."

Think It Through

HOME ON THE MOON!

I've been looking for a good investment for sometime—a new deck dealt above the table! It goes this-a-way.

On Long Island, New York, some men are selling real estate on the Moon at $1.00 per acre, which isn't too high. It is called the Interplanetary Development Corp. 4,500 people have bought acreage and are calling on their lawmakers to ask who owns the Moon, and how.

MR. HUTTON

So far the answer is everybody—just as everybody owns the Constitution. But what belongs to everybody apparently belongs to nobody. The Moon is the Moon and maybe always will be. But who knows? Maybe interplanetary space ships will be commuting to the Moon before this century ends.

To go back to the Interplanetary Development Corp., it's not the first time we have fallen for "pie in the sky."

This project has a lot of advantages. As the Moon is made of cheese, every one could get all the cheese he wants with a shovel in the garden. A grand place for politicians who hand out so much cheese!. And what a place for lovers where every night it is moonlight! Yes, sir, at $1.00 an acre, it's a bargain!

The question is: How to get a good title to the property? The "Man in the Moon" is the only guy who could sign the papers. Let's call on him, neighbor, and make sure of a nice suburban home when we retire—with no congested highways! And, maybe no taxes.

Saugerties Town Board Acquires Dumping Ground

The acquisition of a dumping ground for the town of Saugerties was announced at a special town board meeting held Wednesday night in the town building.

According to the announcement by Supervisor Peter M. Williams the town dump is located 500 feet off Route 212 on the Keefe estate near the Woodstock town line.

Supervisor Williams said the dump site, an isolated area consisting of gullies and suitable for dumping purposes will be ready for use September 1. A five year lease has been signed covering the new site which met the approval of the Town Board and the Ulster County Board of Health, he said.

Attending the meeting were five conveyors of refuse and garbage who were instructed regarding the regulations of the newly designated dump. They are the Sperl brothers, John Doyle, Percy Doyle and Ralph Raimondi.

Up to this time refuse collectors and carting concerns have been depositing garbage and refuse collected in the township in the village dump located on the Cantine property to the rear of Ulster avenue.

For the privilege, the town of Saugerties had been paying the village a rental fee of $100 per month.

On August 20 the Village Board of Trustees adopted an ordinance prohibiting the use of the village dump by anyone other than village residents. The enactment of this ordinance cancelled the contract arrangement between the village and the township and created the need for a town dumping ground.

Violators of the newly adopted village ordinance are liable to a fine of $25 for the first violation and $100 for subsequent violations. Refuse collectors in the village have been registered in order to inforce the measure.

Book Causes Concern

Gilmanton, N. H., Aug. 30 (AP)—The chief topic of conservation in this New Hampshire town of about 800 persons today centered around a book which has caused a controversy even a month before its publication date. The book, Peyton Place, written by 32-year-old Grace Metalious, a Gilmanton mother of three children. Those who have read advance copies inadvertently stirred up the controversy by describing the book as "spicy," "earthy" and even "shocking." George Metalious, also 32, said he had to quit his $3,000 a year job as a Gilmanton grade school principal in anticipation of being fired because of his wife's book.

EATING YOUR WAY TO SAFER DRIVING

By NEA Service

New York—(NEA)—In the course of this Labor Day weekend, nearly 48 million cars will be on American highways.

In the course of last Labor Day weekend, 438 people died in traffic accidents.

While statistics like these bring a certain amount of hysteria with them, the American Automobile Association reports that the driving public is doing a better job than ever before.

Caution, however, is the better part of relaxation. In addition to safe driving, safe eating can save motorists' lives. According to diet experts at Corner House restaurants located on many miles of express highways:

1. If you're going to drive, eat lightly. Heavy meals can make you drowsy.
2. Avoid starchy, fatty and fried foods and alcoholic beverages.
3. Drink at least six glasses of water—including or supplemented by fruit beverages—during traveling days.
4. Stop at least once every two hours for a snack or cup of tea or coffee with sugar to supplement the tremendous energy used in driving.

The AAA's tips for safe driving:

1. Make sure your car is mechanically sound before you start.
2. Safe driving speeds are generally those of the other cars on your road. Driving too slowly can be as dangerous as driving too fast.
3. Start your trip early and plan to get home early. If you get drowsy, or want to see the scenery, pull off the road .
4. Following another car: Allow one car length for each 10 miles of speed. In bad weather and at night: Decrease speed, increase distance.

"Where did this come from?"

Mexican Caravan Heads for Home

In a final letter to The Freeman before the Mexican "caravan" led by the Rev. and Mrs. Arthur E. Oudemool of the Old Dutch Church returns to Kingston, Miss Helen Kukuk describes a visit to Oaxaca, the return to Mexico City and departure for home.

The group, which left Kingston July 22, is expected back this week.

"Saturday in Oaxaca is market day. . . . The dominant Indians are the Zapotec and one can recognize many of them in and around the market. Predating the Aztec and even the Mayans, the Zapotec developed their own calendar. Noteworthy too is the large temple, Monte Alban, an architectural feat as great as that at Teotehuacan . . . Sunday we retraced our steps to Mexico City. . . .

"I was fortunate in meeting a doctor, a relative of Carmen Messinger of Kerhonkson, who with his associate, showed me several of the hospitals in the city. One, a 250-bed emergency hospital that is 15 years old is well equipped to do all types of surgery including thoracic and neurosurgery. The staff is largely made up of residents who have already studied in the states or other foreign countries...Cost of hospitalization are 2-10 dollars a day...

"TUESDAY MORNING we said a sad goodbye to Mexico City and happily turned our faces homeward...Late in the afternoon we descended to tropical Tamazunchale...We stayed at El Barato that night where we swam in a heated sulfur pool, a pretty sight as the steam rose in the moonlight...Oh, to have back the altitude. Yesterday as we left the tropics and entered the desert and today are so very hot...It was quite late when we reached Saddle Mountain and Monterrey...This morning we spent but a few minutes in the Monterrey market because we were so penniless.

"These are our last 150 miles to Laredo and it is hot and dry. By evening we hope to be back in the U.S.A., having traveled through 14 of Mexico's 28 states. Many of us are already looking forward with fond hopes of coming again next year..."

The casbah in Algiers, scene of many movies and romantic legends, is still a section of endless alleys and winding steps. It is so narrow that three men cannot pass abreast, but 50,000 Algerians live in its offshooting doorways.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

No-Trump Play Is Illusive

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Put yourself in the East seat in order to defend against three no-trump in today's hand. The correct defensive play may surprise you.

South wins the opening lead with the king of hearts and leads the jack of diamonds. West, your partner, plays low, and dummy likewise plays low. This permits you to win the second trick with the queen of diamonds. What do you return?

If you return your partner's suit, you will get nowhere. Your best chance is to switch to clubs.

The average player would return the queen of clubs, and this would allow South to make his contract. Dummy wins with the king of clubs, and the defenders can later get the ace of diamonds and two club tricks. South's ten of clubs is good enough to win the fourth round of that suit.

East can defeat the contract by returning his low club instead of one of the honors. East should realize that his partner has the ace of diamonds. This will give West a chance to lead through the king of clubs later on.

When East returns his lowest club, declarer can win the trick in either hand and force out the ace of diamonds. West now leads another club through dummy's king, and East is ready to take three club tricks, defeating the contract.

$8,903 Reported For Scout Drive; New Eagle Named

Only $8,903 out of a total goal of $24,500 has been turned in to date for the 1956 Boy Scout financial drive, Herbert Crispell, campaign director, reported this week during the executive board meeting of Rip Van Winkle Council, Boy Scouts of America, at Governor Clinton Hotel.

Crispell noted that the amount represents 37 per cent of the overall goal and urged all communities to proceed with their drives without delay.

It was pointed out that with the Council operating on a 10-months year, the next campaign would take place in February of 1957. "If all solicitations are not completed soon, this year's solicitations will interfere with an detract from the next campaign," the director said.

During this week's meeting Eagle Scout Allen Oren of Explorer Post 44, sponsored by Catskill BPOE, was presented with his coveted Eagle Badge and certificates.

Allen is the newest Eagle Scout. He attended the Council camp this summer in addition to attending the junior leader's training camp at the national training center, Schiff Scout Reservation near Mendham, N. J. He also served the last two weeks of camp as assistant nature director at Tri-Mount.

The next meeting of the executive council will be held Tuesday, Sept. 25, at which time a final report will be given by the trust fund and the public relations committees. Three new Eagle Scouts also may be presented.

The badge was presented to the new Eagle Scout by the Scout Executive George V. Dennis and the certificate by the Council President John A. Aalto. Post Advisor Michael DelVecchio and Meyer Oren, father of Allan, also participated in the presentation ceremonies.

During the course of the meeting Robert A. MacKinnon, chairman of the Council organization and extension committee, reported that as of the end of July the Council showed a gain of seven Units and 222 boys over the same time last year. He also announced that 17 new Units are in the process of organization, all of which should be registered before the end of the calendar year. Frank Bourke, chairman of the Council camp committee, gave a preliminary report on the long-term camping season at Camp Tri-Mount during this summer. This showed a total of 434 different boys had attended camp for a total of 635 boy-weeks. This is an increase of 31 per cent over the 1955 season. A final report will be given next month after all bills have been turned in.

The Council advancement committee chairman, Richard C. Gendreau, Sr., reported that a total of 64 rank advancements and 284 Merit Badges had been earned at camp this summer. He urged all troops to process these achievements and report them into the Council Office without delay so that the individual boys could receive credit for them. He also urged all districts to submit lists of approved merit badge counselors without delay.

President Aalto of Ashokan reported briefly on his trip to the National Scout Ranch, Philmont in New Mexico, where he participated in a training course this summer. Two members of the board, Frank Myers and Gerald Overbagh, reported briefly on a study they are making toward the purpose of having an active public relations committee in the Council.

In the Council summary and projection the scout executive pointed out that with the anticipated growth in new units and boys in the near future, each operating committee would have greater responsibility in making sure a good Scout program was given to them. The camp committee should plan on at least a 10 per cent increase for next summer, the training committee must plan on more training courses for the new leaders coming into scouting, the advancement committee should plan on methods to promote and explain the advancement methods used in Scouting for the new Units. This all means more work so more men will have to be recruited to do it.

Dr. White in Moscow

Moscow, Aug. 30 (AP)—Dr. Paul Dudley White, Boston heart specialist, came here today to see how the Russians deal with heart trouble. Dr. White, whose most famous patient is President Eisenhower, said he would spend about 10 days in the Soviet Union "to talk with people who are specialists in our field." He said he was interested in learning about Soviet methods of research into heart disease and rehabilitation of heart patients. But he wouldn't say if he meant to use the knowledge in treating the President.

Brakeman Is Crushed

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 30 (AP)—Milo Wood, 55, of Albany, a New York Central brakeman, was crushed to death today when he was pinned to a ramp by a gondola car in a yard at suburban South Bethlehem. Coroner J. Gregory Nealon, who gave a verdict of accidental death, said the car had been backing into a siding where Wood was standing.

Votes Open Parley On Press Problems

Rochester, N. Y., Aug. 29 (AP)—An Associated Press official tonight said he had voted against conducting behind closed doors a conference on press problems at the third annual Canadian-United States conference at Rochester University.

Harry Montgomery, an assistant general manager of the AP said he had voted to keep the conference open "for all the obvious reasons."

The vote which banned reporters from attending the conference and from interviewing participants on the campus was taken and passed today.

Cornelius W. De Kiewiet, president of the university, defended the vote.

"It was the university's intention to make it possible for men in responsible and sometimes critical positions in Canada and America to come together to exchange views in an atmosphere of both cordiality and confidence which would not be possible in an open meeting," De Kiewiet said.

Montgomery and Gillis Purcell, general manager of Canadian Press told a reporter they wanted the sessions open to the press.

". . . I voted to keep the conference open for all the obvious reasons," Montgomery stated. "Besides, I feel that news coverage would help solve some of the problems discussed here tonight."

Gillis said, "My vote was yes. I don't see how anyone could vote otherwise."

Reporters seeking entry to the conference said they were annoyed by the ban because "most of the conferees are newspaper men."

The topic of the year's conference was "The Communications of Canada and the United States."

Pioneer in Air Mail Service Retires Nov. 1

Washington, Aug. 30 (AP)—The Post Office Department announced today that Col. Earl B. Wadsworth, 60, one of the pioneers in developing a U. S. air mail service, will retire Nov. 1.

His 40-year postal service was uninterrupted except for two tours of military flying service in the two world wars.

Wadsworth, a native of New Bedford, Mass., joined the department in 1916 and had a leading role in drafting plans for the first air mail service inaugurated between Washington and New York city in August 1918.

Shortly thereafter, he took similar leave in World War II to serve as an Air Force Colonel in the North African and Italian campaigns.

He now is director of the Air Service Division of the department's Bureau of Transportation.

Tiny Camera Is Made to Help in Stomach Cases

Rochester, N. Y., Aug. 30 (AP)—Photographic study of stomach ailments is promised for the first time by the development of a tiny color camera capable of taking pictures inside the stomach itself.

Arthur Smialowski of Toronto lectured on his invention yesterday before some 300 experts meeting for the first day of the three-day annual convention of the National Biological Photographers Assn. here.

The Smialowski camera is contained in a pencil-thin flexible tube, 31 inches long which is inserted in the patient's throat. A combination of tiny mirrors and 50 lenses carries the image to a plate smaller than a dime.

The revolutionary camera carries its own light source into the stomach and can be focussed by the operator.

Smialowski said he was working on plans for a motion picture camera the same size.

Smialowski, in his thirties, fled Communist Poland in 1946 and is now associated with St. Michael's Hospital, Toronto.

He said the camera would be tested on patients at St. Michael's in the next two or three months.

Cab Strike Off

St. Louis, Aug. 30 (AP)—A strike of St. Louis taxicab drivers was called off in its 12th day and service was about back to normal today. Don Cortor, leader of the walkout and chairman of an independent union formed by about 400 drivers, urged the men to return to work at a meeting last night and to rejoin Teamsters Local 405. He told newsmen: "We had to go back to work because we ran out of money."

Weekly Food Review

(By The Associated Press)

Turkey, ham and fried chicken will be the main dish in a good many American homes this weekend if the nation's housewives do their shopping with an eye on the "specials" featured in the stores.

With a three-day weekend coming up, Mrs. Housewife must remember she has to buy something that she can serve for Sunday dinner and again on Labor Day Monday. Both turkey and ham fill the bill admirably in this respect, and it's no surprise the managers of the nation's supermarkets and corner groceries will be featuring them.

IN ADDITION, the U. S. Department of Agriculture expects a record turkey crop this year, somewhere around 75 million gobblers, and the crop is starting to market earlier than usual. Many stores, which formerly charged a higher price for the small turkeys, are keeping one price for all sizes ranging from 4 pounds to 20 and 22 pounds.

Both turkey and ham also can be utilized, of course, for school lunches in those areas where schools will be starting up immediately after Labor Day.

In connection with school lunches, the Department of Agriculture notes that excellent catches this year have brought stocks of canned tuna fish to a high level, and that the peanuts used to make peanut butter also are in good supply.

Salads will be more costly this weekend, because a strike in California has curtailed lettuce production and sent the price higher. Carrots also are higher this week, but many good buys will be available at the fruit and vegetable counters.

THESE INCLUDE green beans, beets, cabbage, celery, cauliflower, corn, cucumbers, eggplant, onions, green peppers, potatoes and tomatoes. These will be especially good buys in areas where fresh crops from nearby fields are available.

Cooking apples and peaches are in good supply and quality in many places, along with plums and prunes. Limes, a good buy all summer, are very low in price in most sections.

Blueberries still look like the best bet among the berries, although some strawberries also can be had at moderate prices.

Sees Airliners Beating Clock Across Country

San Francisco, Aug. 29 (AP)—in the not too distant future, you can take off in New York and land in San Francisco before you took off.

This is the opinion of the man who won the first Bendix Trophy race in 1931 and went on to set a transcontinental record of 12 hours.

"WE NOW HAVE fighter planes in the 1,000 mile-per-hour class," Lt. Gen. Jimmy Doolittle said in an interview. "It is only a matter of time until commercial aircraft will be flying across the continent in less than three hours."

With the aid of the three-hour time differential from coast to coast, this would mean arriving before you left, by the clock.

This week marks the 25th anniversary of the Bendix Trophy race—aviation's equivalent of the Kentucky Derby or the Indianapolis speedway classic.

Doolittle won that first race in 1931 from Los Angeles to Cleveland, refueled, took off for New York and became the first man to cross the continent in 12 hours.

NOW WITH the Shell Oil Co. here, Doolittle looks more like the man in the gray flannel suit than the man who used to break air speed records and went on to bomb Tokyo and command the mighty Eighth Air Force in Europe.

He said his position now is "vice president in charge of odd jobs."

Now nearly 60, Doolittle hasn't flown much for the past eight years, but is still in the air force reserve.

Union Center

Union Center, Aug. 29—The summer session of the library hour closed last week with a party in which those who were enrolled participated. The activity was sponsored by the civic group.

Those assisting in the program were Mrs. George Vilhelm, Mrs. Edward Cochrane, Mrs. Carmen Boonhower, Mrs. Judson Markle, Mrs. William Dawn, Mrs. Gabrielle Guido and Mrs. Robert Elliott.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Koemn have returned from a trip to Florida.

Emory Phillips of Rhinebeck was a recent visitor with his cousin, Herbert Schultz.

The regular meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society will be held Sept. 6 at 8 p. m. at the local church.

Regular church services Sept. 9 will be held at 11 a. m. The Rev. Robert Baines is pastor.

School re-opens next week with Mrs. Winifred Neher as teacher.

Trouble for Javits

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 30 (AP)—Republican fears that the jobrich State Law Department might fall into Democratic hands could cripple Atty. Gen. Jacob K. Javits' chances for the U. S. Senate nomination, according to one top-level GOP leader. The Republican figure, who would not be quoted by name, told the Associated Press yesterday he believed those fears could cost Javits a lot of backing when the GOP State Committee meets here Sept. 10 to name a candidate. His remarks tended to confirm recent reports that Javits was losing ground with the party high command in behind-the-scenes maneuvering for the nomination. The attorney general, a former congressman from Manhattan, has not been popular with party leaders because of views regarded by some as too liberal. And some party prominents are known to want a candidate with a bigger "name" than Javits.

Nixon Very Critical

Whittier, Calif., Aug. 30 (AP)—Frank Nixon, 77, father of Vice President Richard M. Nixon, was reported weaker this morning. Dr. I. N. Kraushaar said the elder Nixon's temperature jumped two degrees since last night to 101.6. The doctor described him as "very, very critical." The vice president's father suffered a ruptured abdominal artery last Wednesday. Dr. Kraushaar said he has advised the vice president not to return at this time. Nixon is vacationing with his family at Mantoloking, N. J.

Pilot Is 'Fair'

Glens Falls, N. Y., Aug. 30 (AP)—Charles W. Allison Jr. of Norwalk, Conn., was reported in "fair to good" condition today at Glens Falls City Hospital after surviving a plane crash and a 36-hour battle against an Adirondack wilderness. The 33-year-old national guard pilot suffered a fractured leg and facial lacerations when he was thrown clear of the plane as it crashed into a mountainside and caught fire near Indian Lake in Hamilton county on Monday night.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Aug. 30 (AP) — The stock market declined on a broad front in the early afternoon today as stormier clouds blew up over the Mediterranean.

Losses extended to around 3 points and gains were generally held to small fractions.

Weakness was most pronounced in oils and chemicals. Oils, in particular, have been sensitive to developments in the Suez Canal crisis.

Trading was estimated at around 1,700,000 shares for the day, compared with yesterday's 1,530,000 shares.

Special Driver Test

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 30 (AP)—The State Bureau of Motor Vehicles will conduct special driving tests Sept. 6 in Steuben county for migrant farm workers. Those holding out-of-state drivers' permits are not required to obtain a New York license if they pass the tests. The special program followed complaints of farm leaders that workers were bypassing New York because of "unfavorable treatment" in the matter of driving rights. Representatives of the bureau met last night in Cohocton, Steuben county, to discuss the problem. Don J. Wickham of Hector, president of the New York Farm Bureau, yesterday sent a telegram to Gov. Harriman asking an immediate conference for action on the migrant workers' driving situation.

INJURED IN ACCIDENT ON ROUTE 212—Daniel J. McLoughlin, 42, of West Saugerties, who was injured at 9 p. m. Wednesday when his 1946 sedan went out of control on Route 212 a quarter of a mile east of Woodstock is lifted into a Schultz ambulance. He is reported in "fair" condition at Benedictine Hospital today suffering from facial lacerations and possible concussion. Trooper H. S. Rhodes of Phoenicia station said Mr. McLoughlin was proceeding east when his car went up an embankment, continued for 100 feet, then plunged down a 25-foot slope knocking down a couple of trees. He was treated at the scene by Dr. Hans Cohn of Woodstock. The car was demolished. (Anner photo)

rants, gasoline stations and emergency service garages have assured the Authority they will have full complements of personnel on hand to guarantee the best possible service to the traveling public. All available Administrative and Operations personnel of the Authority will patrol the Thruway during the weekend, acting as trouble-shooters and offering assistance where needed.

45-Miles on Link

Although the normal Thruway speed limit is 60 miles an hour for passenger cars, a 45-mile-an-hour maximum has been set for the final Yonkers-New York city link. This section, known as the Southern Westchester connecnection, is toll free and leads directly into the Major Deegan Expressway, where a 35-mile-an-hour speed limit is in effect.

Opening of the last stretch involves some three miles of multiple lane Thruway. However, traffic has been moving over the northern portion as it was completed and the removal of the barricades tomorrow afternoon signals the opening of the remaining 1.6 miles.

The Deegan Expressway leads directly to the Triborough Bridge for connections to Long Island or to Manhattan's Franklin D. Roosevelt Drive.

Committee Named

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 30 (AP)—Appointments to the temporary state commission that will prepare plans for a constitutional convention were announced today by Gov. Harriman and the Legislature's Republican leaders. As revealed earlier, Nelson Rockefeller of New York city, former U.S. undersecretary of health, education and welfare, was designated as chairman of the 15-member commission. Among the appointees are former Gov. Charles Poletti, Assembly Majority Leader Joseph F. Carlino and Mayor Donald Mead of Syracuse. The convention, to re-examine the state constitution with a view toward revamping it, will be held in 1959, provided the voters approve. The question will appear on the 1957 election ballot.

TROUBLED CANDIDATE — Pausing after grand jury appearance in Chicago Aug. 29, Herbert C. Paschen looks thoughtful. Paschen, Democratic nominee for governor, may resign from ticket because of disclosure of a controversial fund in his office to which bankers contributed. He is the Cook county treasurer. French Forces a new fight with Eoka, the bomb-and-gun underground which seeks to unite the island with Greece.

Eoka called off an 11-day truce this week and declared there would be no peace until the British resume negotiations on its demands with the exiled Cypriot Archbishop, Makarios. Two more British servicemen were injured by Eoka attacks yesterday. The British in turn put the Greek Orthodox Bishop of Kitium, acting successor to Makarios, under house arrest.

Request Is Welcomed

Although the landing of French troops promised to complicate the already troubled political situation on Cyprus, it appeared Britain welcomed the French request because it emphasized the British argument that the island is essential to the North Atlantic Alliance's defense position in the east Mediterranean.

The French foreign office said the French government had asked, and Britain had agreed, that a "contingent of French troops should be temporarily stationed in Cyprus." The French said that in view of developments in Egypt, they wished to be in "a position to insure, in case of need, the protection of French Nationalists and their interests."

Information Guarded

The French defense ministry would give no information on troop movements or how many would go to Cyprus. However, it was presumed troops already were en route when the announcement was made. The French steamships Aulne and Brest sailed from Marseille Monday for secret destinations with military equipment, and the aircraft carrier Arromanches sailed the same day on what were described as maneuvers.

Cyprus is a much closer staging area for France, whose troops and warships until now have been maintained on an alert basis at Toulon, in France, and in Algeria.

Compromise

would bring Niagara Mohawk in line with the power authority and the Harriman administration.

If the company agrees to the application before the FPC, it is likely that the application would be processed more quickly.

Although Niagara Mohawk's Schoellkopf power station was destroyed by a rockslide in June, the company still has other facilities in the area which would be valuable to the power authority.

July Building Lowest Since '49

New York, Aug. 30 (AP)—State Housing Commissioner Joseph P. McMurray reports that private home building in New York state continued its downward trend during July.

McMurray said yesterday the decline was general throughout the state but especially sharp in New York city where a 62 per cent drop was noted.

The commissioner said homebuilding in the state last month was the least for any July in the past seven years.

During July of last year, he said, 8,155 units were authorized or started, while last month the figure was 5,355.

In the first seven months of this year, he added, a total of 47,078 units—public and private—were started or authorized, compared to 62,527 in the corresponding period last year.

Chief alfalfa crop grown in California's Imperial Valley is the African variety. It withstands pests and plant diseases best, say the agronomists.

Pupils Are Assigned To Kerhonkson School

In an account of the opening of the Rondout Valley Schools in Tuesday's Freeman it was incorrectly stated that entering freshmen from Accord-Kerhonkson area may enroll at Kingston High School. This should have read that freshmen from that area may enroll in Kerhonkson High School.

Entering freshmen from Stone Ridge, Cottekill and Rosendale areas may enroll at Kingston or New Paltz high schools.

Keep' Em Happy

Blacksburg, Va. (AP) — Be a friend to your hen—and get more eggs. Agricultural officials here say there's such a thing as hurt feelings in the poultry world. So speak softly, act gently and feed regularly. You can't expect as many eggs, they say, if you frighten the hens, handle them roughly or feed at irregular hours.

Fort Plain, N. Y., Aug. 30 (AP) —The Rev. Herbert H. Mahl, 47, a Lutheran minister active in rural church work, died yesterday at his home after a three-month illness.

He had been a member of the Home Missions and Rural Church Work Committee of the Lutheran Synod of New York and New England, and a director of the Rural Church Institute, Town and County Division, of the New York State Council of Churches.

Correction Commissioner Thomas J. McHugh announced yesterday that McCarthy would succeed Dr. William L. Dorr of Auburn, who resigned, and McMann would replace Charles L. McKendrick, now superintendent of the state institution for male delinquents at Napanoch.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 30 (AP)— Representatives of business and consumer groups will attend a state-sponsored conference Oct. 2 on the use of trading stamps.

Dr. Persia Campbell, consumer counsel to Gov. Harriman, said yesterday the governor's office had received complaints that the practice of issuing stamps with purchases "raises retail prices and puts small business at a competitive disadvantage."

The stamps are redeemable for merchandise.

Dr. Campbell said use of trading stamps had become "a highly controversial issue" and the conference was scheduled in order to obtain information and various viewpoints.

Theodore Dreiser later used the case as the basis for his novel, "An American Tragedy." Dr. Crumb witnessed Gillette's electrocution in 1908.

BARGAIN SALE ON WATER—Drinking water, believe it or not, has become a popular item for a local dairy chain in Dallas, Tex. The salt content of the city water supply has risen until the water is unpalatable. The dairy hauls well water from central Texas and packages it just like milk.

All's Quiet

Clearfield, Utah (AP)—There will be no more wailing sirens to signify the 10 p. m. curfew for juveniles in this northern Utah community. Mothers complained that the shrill siren awakened the children who were already asleep. The City Council ordered use of the siren discontinued. The curfew remains; but the teenagers will have to go by their own watches hereafter.

Officials Optimistic on Bright Future for Teachers, Classrooms

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

Washington — (NEA) — For the first time since before World War II the fall opening of U. S. schools finds reasons for restrained optimism about the future of American education.

This school year could mark the emergence of the American public school system from its chronic post-war crisis.

Figures indicate that the teacher shortage trend has finally been reversed. Construction of classrooms shows signs of catching up with shortages, increased enrollments and obsolescence. And an upturn in the number of U. S. youngsters taking science and math courses indicates future relief for the drastic shortage of scientific manpower.

But best of all, educators feel, the status of the country's schools promises to be a major issue in the upcoming presidential campaign. At both the Democratic and Republican conventions pledges were made to give increased help to U. S. education.

Regardless of which party is victorious in November, the experts here believe, the result of focusing campaign attention on education will be a net good.

U. S. Office of Education figures reveal that 69,000 more new classrooms will be available in public elementary and high schools this fall than there were a year ago. This is "more than sufficint to take care of the year's increase in enrollment," USOE reports. And it will begin to cut into the shortage of classrooms caused by obsolescence.

In addition, reports gathered by USOE this past summer indicate that there was more school construction under way, more contracts for new schools let, and more school bond issues launched than during any previous period since World War II.

Most educators still believe far more federal aid is needed for school construction to eliminate the classroom shortage within the next five years, however.

* * *

Figures from the USOE reveal that 41,553,000 students will be enrolling in public and private schools up through, the college level this fall. That's an increase of 1,754,300 over enrollment of a year ago.

The greatest increase is in public elementary schools, with 29,618,000 pupils entering this year as compared to 28,514,200 last year. The increased birth rate of the war years accounts for this.

Optimism of this year's teacher situation comes from the National Education Association. A total of 96,079 new teachers who were graduated from colleges last June will be taking their first teaching jobs. This will still leave a deficit of about 80,000 teachers, needed to eliminate two-shift classes and take the place of teachers with sub-standard qualifications.

"But the situation generally tends to confirm the association's optimism that teacher supply and demand can be balanced by 1962 if economic gains of teachers are continued," an NEA report says.

An indication of increased interest by American youth in math and science courses comes from the National Science Teachers Association.

"A recent study shows significant increases in the number of schools offering general science courses and in the number of schools enrolling 90 to 100 per cent of their students in these courses."

It is expected that 4,435 newly-graduated science teachers will take places in the U. S. schools this fall. That's a 28 per cent increase since 1954.

P-TA Fall Meeting To Be Held Thursday

Tillson, Aug. 29—The first fall meeting of Tillson Parent-Teachers Association will be held at the school Thursday, Sept. 6 at 8 p. m.

Mrs. Walter Born, president has extended a cordial invitation to all persons interested in the P-TA to attend this meeting. She pointed out that one does not have to be a parent of a school child to belong to the P-TA. This will be a welcoming meeting at which time the new teachers will be introduced in addition to members of the board of education.

The Parent-Teachers Association will plan numerous projects for the year to aid the school children.

During the month, members of the hospitality committee will plan to call on newcomers to the community to explain the purpose of the P-TA and to invite them to join.

Following the business meeting, refreshments will be served.

Set Registration For Kindergarten

Tillson, Aug. 29—Registration for children entering kindergarten at the Tillson school will be held on Tuesday, Sept. 4 from 9 a. m. to 12 noon. Regular classes will start Wednesday, Sept. 5.

No Bids Are Received For Fire Hall Addition

Tillson, Aug. 29—The final day for bids to alter and make additions to the existing firehall was Saturday, and the board of fire commissioners met to open any bids. However, no bids for the work were received.

The regular meeting of the board of fire commissioners will be held at the firehall Wednesday evening, Sept. 12. At that meeting some decision as to the next steps to take will probably be announced.

Local Young Ladies Tell of European Tour

Tillson, Aug. 29—Carolyn and Joanne Engert, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Engert have just recently returned from an extensive two months tour of Europe during which they visited Germany, Switzerland and Austria. Mrs. G. Sauer, grandmother of the two high school girls, accompanied them.

They flew via Swiss Air Lines to Europe and back and also traveled by air from Switzerland to Germany while visiting there.

One of the most exciting highlights of the trip was a visit to Oberammergau, where every 10 years the Passion Play is given. They were fortunate to meet Anton Preisinger, who portrays Jesus in the play, and obtained his autograph.

During the two months stay they visited relatives, and toured the country. They visited such places as Salzburg, Austria; Zurich, Switzerland; Munich, Cologne and Stuttgart in Germany, and took a boat ride up the Rhine river.

The girls engaged in a snowball fight on the Bavarian Alps, where they saw glaciers. They also saw the highest mountain in Germany, named Zeigspitze. Castles built in the time of Ludwig the Second were visited, and they saw several seas, including Konig Sea, Moon Sea and Traun Sea, all in Germany. In Austria they climbed Mt. Glossglochner, where they observed glaciers.

Unfortunately, the weather in Europe during their visit was "miserable," as Joanne described it, with rain a great deal of the time. However, they both said they had a very enjoyable vacation abroad.

Tillson School Staff Members Are Listed

Tillson, Aug. 30—W. K. Wakeley, president of the board of education, Tillson School, has announced the staff members for the coming school year, under the supervision of Principal George Fernandez.

There will be three new teachers at the school this year including Mrs. Helene Power of New Paltz; Mrs. Albert Hutton and Robert J. Murray, both of Kingston.

Mrs. Power received her BS degree at the College of New Rochelle, majoring in biology. She completed graduate work in science at Hunter College, and two years of graduate work in education at the New Paltz college. She will teach kindergarten and first grade.

Mrs. Albert Hutton received a BS degree in elementary education at the New Paltz State Teachers College. Formerly of Queens Village, she now resides in Kingston having been married in August to Albert Hutton, a member of the Kingston Police Department. In addition to teaching grades 2 and 3, Mrs. Hutton will also direct the school glee club.

Robert J. Murray received his BS degree in elementary education at New Paltz college and during his four years with the United States Air Force, he worked with Statistical Services. He will teach grades 6 and 7.

Mrs. Raymond Craft will again be on the staff, teaching grades 4 and 5, and Mr. Fernandez, principal, will teach the eighth grade.

In addition, band instruction will be given by A. Merola, art instruction by A. H. Shultis, physical education by F. McCormick and the school nurse will be Mrs. F. McCormick. The new elementary school supervisor for the area is Henry Hopper.

Sheer Horror Describes Holiday Traffic

Hospitals Are Alerted For Highway Accidents

(Editor's Note: Starting at twilight tomorrow some 25 million automobiles will begin filing onto American highways for the long Labor Day weekend. They will be playing the death-defying game of American roulette, a peculiarly American phenomenon that last year claimed 438 lives. For sheer horror, there is nothing like it anywhere in the world. This is what actually happened during the 1955 Labor Day weekend.)

By RELMAN MORIN
Associated Press Staff Writer

Shortly after sundown tomorrow, millions of motorists will begin playing American roulette.

The odds in this game are even shorter than they look. There will be many losers.

Some will never know they lost. Others will pay heavy penalties in pain, money, and permanent injury. Still others, living in grief and loneliness, will carry the invisible scars of the soul.

And this is sure to happen. Sure as fate.

THE LABOR DAY weekend begins Friday evening, 72 hours of fantastic movement, speed, and crowding on the highways. At the peak, if the weather is good, more than 25,000,000 automobiles will be competing for space. Some 65,000,000 persons will be riding in them, the National Safety Council estimates.

Tomorrow, as darkness falls, the hospitals and emergency wards all over the country start getting ready. The ambulances come racing in. Very often, however, a doctor report is told in three initials, "D.O.A.—dead on arrival."

State and local police take up stations on the most dangerous roads and crossings. But there are too many of both.

From Chicago, the Associated Press flashes a message to all bureaus: "Please begin tabulating holiday traffic deaths. Keep cumulative totals. Report promptly any important changes."

Soon human beings become statistics.

As the figures come in, they are entered on forms. A pattern of tragedy rapidly begins to take shape. In 1955, the first total was—

"11 p. m.—traffic deaths for the nation—52."

THE STARTING POINT is considered 6 p. m. Friday. So in the first five hours, death is striking an average of one person every six minutes throughout the country.

Who died in those early hours in the traffic holocaust of the nation's 1955 Labor Day weekend?

The first reported in California was a young woman, who smashed into a power pole near Santa Rosa.

In a village west of Coeur D'Alene, Idaho, an elderly man walked into the side of a car.

Near Warsaw, Ky., four lives were snuffed out in a head-on collision. The speedometer of one car was jammed at 90 miles per hour.

Many cars go off the road into trees, utility poles, concrete abutments, and near Westbrook, Conn., a stone well.

The grim total goes up.

"2:20 a. m.—traffic deaths for the nation—74."

The rate falls during the early hours of the morning, purely because there are fewer cars on the road. It always begins picking up again as the flow thickens later. Sunrise brings buoyancy—and speed—and death.

Through the three days, it averaged a human life every 12 minutes.

These accidents actually happened last Labor Day weekend:—

An automobile weights nearly two tons, and sometimes more. Two tons of steel and glass.

It can go (and some have gone)right through a brick and concrete wall. Or shear a man's leggs off, like a scythe.

So in New Jersey, a woman driver shattered not one but two iron utility poles and died instantly.

In Colorado, a car hit a truck and killed five children, two teenage sisters and their brother, and two infants, two months old and twelve days old.

A great many mishaps are "one-car accidents," that is, no collision, nor other vehicle seems to have figured in the crashes. Last year, 11 of 13 people killed in Michigan died this way, and eight of the 12 deaths in Missouri involved no other cars.

What happened?

Mechanical faults — inattention — drinking — speed — falling asleep. So the police say.

But there is a big element of gambling in this game. Often, people die through no fault of their own.

Near Elko, Nev., on a flat stretch of desert, two automobiles approached from opposite directions. One traveled very fast. Probably around 100 miles an hour, the police figure.

In the last split-instant, for reasons that will never be known, it crossed the center-line of the highway and smashed head-on into the other car. Two men in the fast car died—and one man in the slow car.

Or a mechanical failure suddenly turns an easy-handling automobile into an uncontrollable demon. A tire blows out. A knuckle breaks on the steering wheel. A wheel crumbles.

Nobody ever knows, in these instances, exactly what happened.

What happened to the two couples near Abbotsford, Wis., that night last year? In one car were two brothers, both in their 'twenties.' In the other, a young man was driving with his wife, an expectant mother.

On a straight stretch of Highway 29, they approached. In an instant, in the time it takes to snap your fingers, all four young people were dead. They crashed head on. There were no witnesses.

No human witnesses, that is. Police said the speeds of the two cars were so great that the impact practically fused them together. They hardly bounced apart after the crash.

Or what happened to Floyd Crumley, of Chicago? He started out to join some friends on a hunting expedition.

He didn't appear. Time passed. They began looking for him and searched for 10 hours. Then they found his body beneath his car in the bottom of a ravine near Oregon, Ill.

Again, no witnesses. What happened?

From Chicago, the ghastly statistics piled up. By Sunday morning, with more than a full day left and the heavy crush of people returning to their homes still ahead, the message read—

"2:30 a. m.—Traffic deaths for the nation—294."

Strange coincidences snuff out the lives of people.

In Arizona, a 15-year-old youth died just three miles from the spot where his father was killed the year before. Near Yukon, Okla. Hugh Rogers was seriously injured when his car overturned close to the place where his twin brother was killed in an automobile accident in 1954.

So many children die.

In Maryland, a car ran over a seven-months-old baby girl as she lay on a blanket in a park. In West Virginia, a 5-year-old boy darted out from behind a truck into the path of a car. In Ohio, an 18-month-old child was playing in the driveway when the brakes failed on an automobile.

So many people die horribly.

In California, Ohio, and West Virginia, people were pinned beneath their automobiles and burned to death. Near Fulton, Ind., a car carrying seven people hit an iron pole and was literally torn in half—five dead.

Whole families are wiped out.

In California, on a freeway near Pasadena, a couple and their son died in a head-on crash. A tragic twist of fate made the dead wife's sister, riding in another car, a witness.

Late in the weekend:

"2:10 a. m.—traffic deaths for the nation—414."

California, with 47, had the worst record last year. Said Highway Commissioner Bernard Caldwell, despairingly, "all appeals to the hazards and perils of this holiday have fallen on deaf ears."

The final total—438. It was only 23 below the all time high set in 1951.

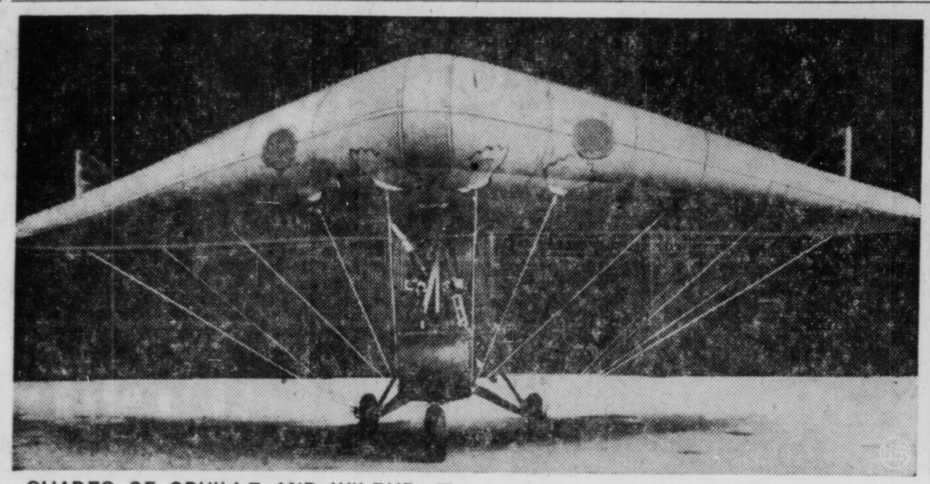
Can nothing be done?

Maine, Montana, North Dakota, Vermont and the District of Columbia had spotless records for the holiday. Minnesota, New Mexico, New Jersey and Oklahoma did better than officials anticipated. All of the New England states were bright spots on the map. So was the high speed Pennsylvania Turnpike.

Maybe it was extra police vigilance. In Massachusetts, officers stopped 10,457 cars. But Capt. Singleton Sheaffer, head of the Pennsylvania Turnpike detail, said it was because most of the drivers there were "safety conscious."

That's American roulette. Want in the game?

Death will deal you a hand.



SHADES OF ORVILLE AND WILBUR—The novel craft, above, is actually a new concept in light aircraft. The English-designed plane, called the M. L. Light Aircraft Mark I, is expected to solve the expensive problem of storing and operating planes. The wing, which is an inflated fabric envelope, can be deflated after flight, rolled up into a bag and packed into the body of the craft. The body is then towed by car and stored in the family garage. The plane can take off within 70 yards, cruises at 58 mph and has a maximum speed of 68 mph.

Unusual Intruder

Keep Cool

Phoenix, Ariz. (AP)—Mrs. Hope Hanse was about to step in the bathtub when she screamed. There was a snake wriggling on the bottom. The mystery was solved by her son, Ray, 12. "I put it there to keep it cool," he said.

Cafeterias Will Begin at Local Schools Sept. 5

Cafeterias throughout the Kingston school system will open on a regular schedule Wednesday, Sept. 5, Earl F. Soper, superintendent of schools, said today.

The price for a complete lunch in the elementary schools is 25 cents with milking cost three cents for each one-half pint. In the junior and senior high schools a complete lunch will cost 30 cents, milk three cents per one-half pint.

Superintendent Soper, who said that the two cafeteria schedules, children are permitsaid that in the two cafeteria in addition to the regular lunch. He also pointed out that homogenized milk will be delivered to the shools in paper containers.

He noted the advantage to the school of the federal and state milk and food reimbursement program which facilitates the offerings at reduced prices.

Mrs. Catherine D. Ellsworth supervises the cafeteria program in the Kingston schools.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

There is something fascinating about little items in old newspapers, like in the Kingston Weekly Freeman of Thursday, Feb. 8, 1900.

One item in the Port Ewen section reads: "Men in the employ of the Hudson River Telephone Co. were at work yesterday stringing another wire, so as to make a metallic circuit in this place, much to the convenience of the subscribers and patrons. When the electric lights were lit at Rondout it was impossible to talk with anybody, but now it is no trouble." Perhaps someone in the "know" of years back can explain the above. I guess modern inventions like electric lights and telephones were coming in too fast and wires were getting crossed.

I wonder how many folks remember the old sleigh-loads to the Red House. I remember when churches ran them. I went on one in the late 1920's. We were covered with fur rugs and otherwise made comfortable. We arrived at the Red House well chaperoned, ate some hot dogs out there, danced and came back safe and sound. A light snow falling would not disturb us much if we could keep it from going inside our collars.

Various incidents did happen, like for instance one described in the 1900 paper: "Patrick Scott started for the Red House on Saturday with a big sleigh and a load of women and children from Port Ewen. Everything went well until the hotel of Thomas Trelease had been passed. Then the sleigh began to travel sideways in a most alarming manner, and after sliding some distance, suddenly upset, spilling the 30 occupants into the gutter.

After getting the sleigh right side up again and assisting in unraveling the tangled mass of humanity, Mr. Scott announced his readiness to continue the ride. All the male members of the party climbed back into the sleigh, but the women and girls declined and with one accord returned home."

Another item reads: "The promised postage stamps, in handy book form, will be on sale at the post office after April 1st. It is proposed to put 12 two-cent stamps in a book, with a wax paper between them, the whole to be sold for 25 cents.

On the cover will be printed postal information. The one cent charge for binding and wax paper will net the government a profit of $6.00 for each thousand books sold."

Another innovation of 1900 which came here to stay was: "An automobile stage. It is stated here on excellent authority that Colonel John Jacob Astor has ordered an electric vehicle of very large proportions, which it is his intention to run in passenger service from the Rhinecliff station to Rhinebeck village, where Colonel Astor's home "Ferncliffe," is situated, a distance of two miles. Some years ago a franchise was granted for a trolley road over the route, but the road has not been built. There has been considerable dissatisfaction with the old-fashioned stage lines, and Colonel Astor's experiment is said to be chiefly to introduce the vehicle which is made by the New York company in which he is interested. It is expected that the vehicle will begin running early in the spring." I do not have more information on the 1900 "vehicle" at the moment, or "automobile stage" but today we know it as a "bus." Perhaps they started in just that fashion back in the early 1900's.

Woodstock Author Must Pay Wife $1,250 a Month

Daniel S. Gillmor, of Woodstock and New York city ,author who wrote the much discussed book, "Fear, the Accuser," has been directed by Supreme Court Justice Harry E. Schirick to pay his wife, Noelle N. Gillmor, $1,250 a month for the support of herself and three children pending trial of an action for separation. The order, filed in the county clerk's office, also directs payment of $6,000 to plaintiff's attorneys for counsel fees, half of which must be paid within 10 days of filing of the order and the other half on the day trial of the action begins. The motion of alimony and counsel fees was heard by Justice Schirick at chambers on June 29.

Hays, Sklar and Herzberg of New York with N. LeVan Haver of counsel, appear for plaintiff and Judge F. Walter Bliss appeared for defendant. The order of Justice Schirick, made August 27, directs also that in order to expedite trial of the separation action the matter is referred to the Appellate Division, Third Department, for designation of an official referee to hear and determine:

Custody of the three children of the marriage, which took place in New York city on January 15, 1948, is awarded the plaintiff but the father may pay weekly visits to the children from Friday after school until Sunday evening "before dinner," and provision is also made that he have custody of the children on Thanksgiving weekend and the latter half of the Christmas vacation period. The visits of the father begin September 7.

Mrs. Gillmor is also given exclusive residence of the Woodstock property which is located on the Wittenberg Road, town of Woodstock. Defendant in addition to payment of alimony, is also directed to pay certain costs and carrying charges for the Wittenberg home and to make payments on the mortgage, however one half of the cost of amortization of the mortgage is to be deducted from the alimony payment. Application for additional allowance may be made upon trial of the separation action.

The action for separation is brought on the grounds of abandonment of plaintiff in 1954 by defendant, who allegedly took up residence at 112 Waverly Place, New York city.

"Fear, the Accusser," of which Gillmor is author, was widely discussed because of comments on congressional investigations of Communist activities and his views on taking advantage of "constitutional rights" of those who had been called before investigating bodies in the investigation of Communist activities.

The order on file directs that alimony payments to Mrs. Gillmor shall begin as of July 15, 1956.

Insurance Man, Woman Injured In Hurley Today

Two persons claimed injuries in a collision this morning on Route 209 at the sharp turn in front of the Hurley Church.

They ar Frank S. Hyatt, 73, Kingston insurance man, and Delaphine V. Dennison, 25, of Rochester.

They told Deputy Sheriffs Arthur Smith and Tony Alecca of the Ulster county sheriff's office that they would see their own physicians.

Mr. Hyatt complained of pains in his left side and Miss Dennison said she had a cut on the left knee.

Miss Dennison told investigators that she was proceeding toward Kingston with her wheels a little over the white line and that when she reached the sharp-angled turn in front of the church she applied her brakes, skidding into the left side of the Hyatt car, proceeding in the opposite direction.

Both cars were extensively damaged in their left sides. Both had to be towed away.

Time of the accident was fixed at 10 a. m.

The Santa Fe Trail ran from Independence, Missouri, to Santa Fe, New Mexico, a distance of 780 miles.

CRIME DOESN'T PAY—Charles Tuso, 44, probably realized that as he was led handcuffed from an auto in New York to face arraignment in New York's Federal Court. He was charged, with other men, of being guilty in the acid-throwing attack on columnist Victor Riesel. (NEA Telephoto)

Decision Coming Next Month on West Shore Line

New York, Aug. 30 (AP)—The New York Public Service Commission is expected to announce next month whether the New York Central railroad may abandon through passenger service on its West Shore line.

The PSC concluded a hearing yesterday on the railroad's application to drop through service between Weehawken, N. J., and Albany and to cut in half the present 22 daily commuter trains running between Rockland county, N. Y., and Weehawken.

Commissioner Richard Balch gave both sides until Sept. 17 to file briefs and indicated the PSC may make a decision by Sept. 25.

James P. Birch of Englewood, N. J., was one of the final witnesses. A survey he said he conducted among passengers as representative of a commuter group will be made a part of the record of the hearing later.

Irene and Helen, two little sisters, went to visit their grandmother in the country. It was their first visit away from the city and they were surprised and delighted at everything. They were especially interested in the chickens and loved to hunt for the newly laid eggs.

Their grandmother cautioned the children never to take away the nest egg. Their strife to see who could find the most eggs was great. One morning Irene reached a nest first. Seizing the forbidden egg, she started for the house.

HST Plans Speeches

Kansas City, Aug. 30 (AP)—Former President Harry Truman is going to get into the political campaign full blast. He announced at his Kansas City office yesterday the Democratic national committee asked him to make two or three speeches a week. He said the committee is drawing up a list of proposed appearances, probably starting the second week in September. He said he would speak only at the invitation of the committee.

Nixons Enjoying Jersey Vacation

Mantoloking, N. J., Aug. 30 (AP)—The Richard Nixons enjoy the sun, sand and surf of this quiet resort today before the vice president knuckles down to the task of writing campaign speeches.

NIXON DROVE from Washington with his wife and two daughters yesterday for a six-day visit at the large beachfront home of Amos J. Peaslee, former ambassador to Australia and now a White House staff adviser.

"This is the first full vacation I've had with my family since last spring," the vice president said.

And it was the second time in three years the Nixons have chosen Mantoloking for a holiday. Mrs. Nixon brought the children, Patricia, 10, and Julie, 8, to the Peaslee house, for a vacation in August 1953. The vice president joined them for a time.

Nixon plans no public appearances this time. He will devote two days to swimming and beach parties with his family before starting work on speeches for a rigorous mid-September campaign tour of 10 days to two weeks.

AN AIDE SAID the vice president meanwhile is keeping in touch with his family in Whittier, Calif., where his ailing father, 77-year-old Frank A. Nixon, is back on the critical list.

The Nixons left Washington by car at 8 a. m., yesterday with two secret service agents. They arrived here five and a half hours later, were welcomed by Mrs. Peaslee and had lunch.

Dies in Chair

Huntsville, Tex., Aug. 30 (AP)—Timothy Pierce, 23-year-old Dallas county Negro, died in the electric chair at the state penitentiary early today for the rape of a 17-year-old Garland,, Tex., girl. "If God is ready for me, I'm ready, but if God ain't ready for me I won't go," Pierce said as he was strapped into the chair. He entered the death chamber at 12:02 a. m. (CST) and was pronounced dead four minutes later.

Expects New Record

Los Angeles, Aug. 30 (AP)—One of America's top jet aces is confident a new record will be set Saturday in the 1956 Bendix Air Force race. Capt. Manuel J. (Pete) Fernandez, who destroyed 14½ Communist jets in Korea, told a news conference yesterday: "We can easily break last year's time and we'll probably break the 1954 record by quite a bit."

Butler Forsees 'Rugged' Battle

Washington, Aug. 30 (AP)—Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler foresees a "rugged" presidential campaign this fall, conducted in "typical American fashion."

He said during the NBC-TV interview last night he expects the Democratic campaign to cost more than seven million dollars "and I wish we had all the money in the till that it's going to cost." He added, however, that "substantial sums" are being received from a public appeal.

He said he expects that sum to be raised and spent by various committees supporting the candidacy of Adlai E. Stevenson for president and Estes Kefauver for vice president.

Earlier in the day, volunteers for Stevenson-Kefauver formally opened headquarters here with announced plans to enlist unpaid workers and conduct a door-to-door drive for campaign funds. The volunteer organization is designed to attract independent voters.

Butler was asked whether Democratic campaign plans include and attack similar to the 1952 Republican charges of a "Truman Mess in Washington." Disclaiming that any 1952 mess existed, he replied that there has been "an apparent lack of morality in public life" under the Eisenhower administration, and added:

"Certainly we intend to call the attention of the American people to these breaches of public trust."

Area Communities Get New State Traffic Measures

Two new traffic regulations for Port Ewen and the town of Rosendale have been announced by Joseph P. Kelly, chairman of the New York State Traffic Commission.

In Port Ewen the parking of vehicles, except taxicabs, has been prohibited on the east side of Route 9W in front of Perry's Taxi office for a distance of 25 feet.

In the town of Rosendale the erection of a stop sign was ordered on Grove street at its intersection with Route 32.

'Got Shot'

Lynnfield, Mass. (AP)—A lost 3-year-old girl's statement that she "got shot yesterday" was good enough to establish her identity. Police got in touch with Dr. Thomas B. White, who had been giving polio shots in the area. He identified her as Karen Dineen.

Democrat Resigns As Nominee Over Fund Controversy

Chicago, Aug. 30 (AP)—Political observers speculated today that another Cook county (Chicago) man would be the Democratic party's choice to succeed Herbert C. Paschen as its nominee for governor.

Paschen, Cook county treasurer, resigned yesterday as the nominee in a controversy revolving about an employes fund in his office. The fund is under investigation by county and federal grand juries.

PASCHEN'S resignation came less than 10 weeks before the Nov. 6 election. It left the problem of picking his successor up to the Democratic state central committee which meets in Springfield, Ill., Tuesday.

At least a dozen persons were reported being considered to replace the affable, 51-year-old Paschen who polled more than a million votes in 1954 when he was elected county treasurer. And it appeared almost certain the substitute candidate would be from Cook county since the rest of the state ticket is predominantly from downstate.

Adlai E. Stevenson, Democratic presidential nominee, is expected to have a strong voice in the selection of Paschen's successor, as is Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley, a Stevenson adherent. Daley, a member of the state central committee, headed the group of Democratic leaders that pressured Paschen into resigning.

NEITHER Stevenson, campaigning in the west, nor Daley made public a choice to replace Paschen.

Among those reported under consideration are Stephen A. Mitchell, former Democratic national chairman, Justice Walter V. Schaefer of the Illinois Supreme Court, Cook county Sheriff Joseph D. Lohman and Cook county Judge Otto Kerner, former U. S. Attorney in Chicago.

Brazil Nut Devil's Food Is Velvety Confection

EXOTIC BRAZIL NUTS lend their flavor to the above prize winner, smooth, velvety devil's food cake.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Every year we get a wonderful Brazil nut devil's food cake sent to us. It's the best cake ever and makes the passing years seem almost welcome.

Each year we tell our readers again about this chocolate velvety Brazil nut cake. Our enthusiasm just naturally repeats itself every time another birthday rolls round and the cake arrives.

Perfect for that Labor Day basket. Perfect for any occasion.

This recipe takes two deep cake pans to hold its lofty goodness. To shell Brazil nuts easily, cover the unshelled nuts with cold water; bring to a boil and boil 3 minutes. Drain. Cover with cold water. Let stand 1 minute. Drain and crack.

Brazil Nut Devil's Food Cake

One-quarter cup shortening, 2 cups firmly packed brown sugar, 2 eggs, 4 squares (4 ounces) unsweetened chocolate, melted; ½ cup chopped Brazil nuts, 2 cups sifted cake flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon soda, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 cup plus 2 tablespoons milk, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Cream shortening; add sugar gradually and cream thoroughly. Add eggs, one at a time, and beat until light and fluffy. Add melted chocolate and beat well. Mix in Brazil nuts. Sift together flour, baking powder, soda and salt; add flour mixture alternately with milk to batter. Stir in vanilla. Pour into 2 deep greased 8-inch layer pans and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 35 to 40 minutes. Let stand 5 minutes and remove from pan. Cover with a glossy chocolate frosting or 7-minute frosting and garnish with Brazil nut petals.

Glossy Chocolate Frosting

Three squares (3 ounces) unsweetened chocolate, melted; 1¾ cups sifted confectioners' sugar, 3 tablespoons hot water, 3 egg yolks, unbeaten, ¼ cup butter or margarine.

Pour melted chocolate into mixing bowl. Add sugar and water; mix well. Add egg yolks, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Drop 1 tablespoon of butter at a time in the mixture and mix thoroughly.

Brazil Nut Petals: Place whole shelled Brazil nuts in cold water. Bring slowly to a boil. Simmer 2 to 3 minutes. Drain and cut into thin lengthwise slices about ⅛-inch thick.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Tomato juice, salmon or beef and veal loaf, creamed horseradish gravy, fluffy rice, corn-on-cob, enriched bread, butter or margarine, Brazil nut devil's food cake, fresh fruit bowl, coffee, tea, milk.

Saugerties

West Camp Church Fair Features Are Listed

Saugerties, Aug. 30 — The special fairway features of the West Camp Church fair will be conducted by the Young Couples Club of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church according to plans announced at a special meeting of the group held this week at the parish hall.

The fair has been scheduled for two days, Thursday and Friday, Sept. 13 and 14. The traditional church fair dinner will be served opening night at 5, 6 and 7:15 p. m. in the parish hall.

The features under the direction of the club will include the House of Glass, Darts, Hoopla, Look in the Future, Hole in One and the Yankee Pitching Range. The American League baseballs used in the pitching range are a special donation by the New York Yankee Baseball Club.

In addition to the fairway features there will be special attractions for the kiddies including pony rides through the courtesy of Riley's Rancho of Pine Grove and special cartoon movies.

Specialty booths conducted by the auxiliaries of the church will include handicraft, toys, homemade candy, exotic plants, works of art and novelties. Early bird booths will be open at 3 p. m. each day and the fairway will open at 5 p. m.

As in previous years the Young Couples voted to welcome the assistance of all the young people in the congregation in serving on the fairway.

Foster Wichell Jr., past president of the group will serve as fairway chairman for the club.

As an added feature this year the refreshment stand operated by members of the church council will serve hot and sweet sausage sandwiches on French bread.

Local Legionnaires Plan Annual Clambake

Saugerties, Aug. 30—The annual clambake of Lamouree-Hackett Post 72, American Legion in Saugerties will be held Sunday, Sept. 9 at Johnnie's Park, Lighthouse drive.

The bake will be prepared by John Naccarato. Members of the Legion and Auxiliary are invited. Tickets are available at the Legion Home, John street and from members of the committee. They are Vernon Tymeson, Edward Buckley, Harold Wilsey, James J. Maines and John Lowther.

Almost Honorable

Marshall, Tex. (AP)—An "honor system" trial almost worked at a local ice plant but not quite. There had been no lock on the plant's ice box for almost a year. A sign said "Serve yourself," and customers were expected to leave payment in a convenient cigar box. Plant manager Locke M. Stuart sadly announced recently that the trial was over. He said that although about 75 per cent of the buyers left payment, more than 3,000 pounds of ice valued at about $30 slowly "melted away." A few customers went out of their way to be honest, however. One elderly man without change left a $1 bill, then picked up his change the next day by describing how the bill was folded.

KINGSTON TRAFFIC PLAN—A drawing by Graphic Techniques, Inc., located in the Millard building on Dederick street, shows the new city traffic plan and parking sites. The drawing, which was made at the request of the Uptown Businessmen's Association, is designed to show how the streets run and the location of parking lots, according to Adrian Kaplan, president of the association. It is hoped that publication of the map will enable shoppers and visitors to Kingston to find their way around the uptown shopping section more easily and conveniently. James Clancy of Kingston, an employe of the Graphic Techniques, prepared the line illustration. The firm is headed by George A. Berk of Woodstock, who was formerly connected with Hagstrom Co. of New York city, a well-known map-making company. The local firm has a complete commercial art service, technical illustrating and engineering, such as machine designing, drafting for electronic components, etc. They are also map makers. Much of their work is for IBM.

LaMarca Faces Early Trial on Kidnaping Count

Mineola, N. Y., Aug. 30 (AP)—The district attorney's office will seek an early trial for Angelo John LaMarca, accused of kidnaping and murdering 32-day-old Peter Weinberger.

After LaMarca's indictment yesterday, Harold Spitzer, Nassau county assistant district attorney, said: "We will move to get the case on the court calendar as soon as possible."

Shows No Emotion

LaMarca, 31-year-old mechanic and taxicab driver and the father of two, stood glumly with eyes downcast during a brief court session after his indictment. He showed no emotion when the charges were read.

There was no formal pleading to the indictment. David M. Markowitz of New York city, one of two defense attorneys, asked for a week's postponement to "study the indictment." County Judge Cyril J. Brown set Sept. 5 to hear the defense plea.

Markowitz said he planned to have LaMarca examined by a psychiatrist after the arraignment. The lawyer had indicated the day before that the defense would be "temporary insanity"—brought on by "desperation over debts."

LaMarca allegedly attempted to collect $2,000 ransom from the infant's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Weinberger, after snatching little Peter from his carriage on the patio of the Weinberger home at Westbury July 4. The baby's remains were found last Friday beside a roadside where LaMarca abandoned him.

The indictment charges LaMarca with kidnaping and felony murder — a murder resulting from the commission of a felony, in this case kidnaping. Conviction on either charge could bring a death chair verdict.

A record king crab caught near Kodiak Island, Alaska, had a leg span of seven feet.

IDENTIFYING—Mrs. Beatrice Weinberger, mother of kidnaped Peter Weinberger, sadly left police headquarters in Mineola, N. Y., after positively identifying the infant's remains. She recognized a safety pin, a scrap of a diaper and other pieces of material as those of her baby son. Detective Edward Curran is comforting the bereaved mother.

Jersey Truck Catches Fire in Saugerties

A loaded tractor-trailer, owned by Langer Transportation Company of New Jersey, caught fire under the floor boards of the cab early this morning on Main street, Saugerties.

The flames were extinguished with chemicals brought to the scene by the R. A. Snyder and C. A. Lynch companies with Chief Edward Buckley in charge.

Damage was not extensive but the tractor-trailer had to be towed away because of a disconnected battery cable, it was reported. Cause of the blaze was not disclosed.

Schatz Workers Vote to Strike Tuesday, Sept. 4

A United Auto Workers local at the Schatz Manufacturing Co., Poughkeepsie, voted Wednesday night to strike Tuesday, Sept. 4.

The vote was approximately 600 in favor of strike with 21 opposed.

Negotiations are still in progress, however, and the outlook is not believed grave. A long Labor Day weekend remains during which differences may be ironed out.

The company, which manufactures ball-bearings, has offered seven cents an hour across the board but the union is reportedly demanding other benefits which have not been made public.

The contract with the company expires at midnight Friday, Aug. 31.

Hyde Park Sexton Falls 20 Feet, Dies

Allen D. Macy, 56, of Hyde Park, sexton and custodian of St. James Episcopal Church of that village, died Wednesday afternoon of injuries suffered several hours earlier when he fell 20 feet from a ladder on the church grounds while sawing off a limb of a tree.

Rhinebeck state police reported that the limb apparently broke, plunging Mr. Macy from the ladder. He landed on a stone wall.

Dr. William Thompson of Rhinebeck, assistant medical examiner of Dutchess county, issued a verdict of accidental death due to skull fracture and laceration of the brain.

Mr. Macy suffered the fall about 10:30 a. m. and was rushed to the hospital where he died at 1:30 p. m.

St. James Church is well-known as the church attended by the late Franklin D. Roosevelt and his family.

U. S. Envoy Dies In Australia

Sydney, Australia, Aug. 30 (AP)—U. S. Ambassador Douglas M. Moffat died of an embolism—an obstructing blood clot—at St. Vincent's Hospital this afternoon. He was 74.

The American envoy had been ill since last month but his death was unexpected.

Named This Year

A partner in the New York corporation law firm of Cravath, Swaine and Moore since 1913, Moffat was appointed to the diplomatic post by President Eisenhower last Feb. 14. He arrived in Australia in April.

Subsequently he underwent a prostate operation.

Arrangements were made to cremate Moffat's body in Sydney tonight.

He was a member of the New York Transit Authority from 1953 to 1955 and at the time of his appointment by Eisenhower was chairman of a temporary state commission studying the use of television in education.

During World War 1 he served as deputy alien property custodian in Manila and in World War 2 was the principal U. S. representative at the British-American middle east supply center in Cairo.

Succeeded Peaslee

In Canberra he succeeded Amos Peaslee, who was named deputy to Harold Stassen, President Eisenhower's special adviser on disarmament.

The ambassador's death was attributed to an acute heart condition. He became suddenly ill on a visit to Queensland last month and underwent an emergency operation at Brisbane, but appeared to make satisfactory progress toward recovery. He went to Sydney for further medical treatment and was on the point of returning to Canberra when the heart ailment developed.

Brink Jury Taken To Key Locations

Boston, Aug. 30 (AP)—The 14-man jury trying eight men for the $1,219,000 robbery of Brink's Inc., in 1950 left the Suffolk county courthouse today to "view" several locations which will figure in testimony.

First stop on the trip was the Brink's counting room on Prince street in Boston's north end. It was there that a group of masked, rubber-soled bandits committed the biggest cash haul in history on a calm winter night.

Before they left on the tour Asst. Dist. Atty. John F. McAuliffe told the jurors their attention would be called to the door at 165 Prince street, and to the width of the streets.

In detail he said, they would be shown a nearby playground, and a garage where the first floor is at the same level as the second floor of Brink's—where the robbery was carried out.

Dog Pills Fatal

East Meadow, N. Y., Aug. 30 (AP)—Alice Faber, 15, of Peekskill, died last night at Meadowbrook Hospital, three days after swallowing a quantity of sedation tablets used for dogs. Police listed the cause of death undetermined pending further investigation. The girl had been staying during the summer with Mrs. Evan Shay, operator of a dog kennel at 102 W. John street, Hicksville. On Sunday night, police said, she staggered into the house and told Mrs. Shay that she had taken a number of pills.

Vols Interested In Surplus Goods At CD Meeting

Widespread interest among the county's volunteer fire companies in army-navy surplus property was indicated at a civil defense meeting last night in the city court room, city hall, at which procedures in obtaining the equipment were explained.

Attendance packed the court room and many stood thorugh the session at which Maj. H. Edgar Timmerman, county CD director, explained how to obtain available surplus property.

Those interested, he said, will have 72 hours in which to inspect the products or equipment sought, and the only cost will be for transportation. Many fire chiefs of volunteer companies in the county, and the local fire and police chiefs attended.

Civil defense, it was explained, will retain title to all equipment acquired by city and county units for four years. After that time the units become the property of a fire company, or any other facility outside of civil defense which acquires surplus equipment. Units acquired by fire companies will be in virtual civil defense use.

Civil Defense Week to be observed from Sept. 9 to 15 was also discussed at the session which drew CD representatives from the city and the county's townships, as well as those from the volunteer fire companies.

Hintz Is Sentenced

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 30 (AP)—Banker Edward A. Hintz, a principal in the Orville E. Hodge scandal, today was sentenced in Sangamon county circuit court to one to three years in prison for conspiracy. Hintz changed his plea from innocent to guilty and received the prison sentence and a total fine of $3,000 on the two indictments from Circuit Judge L. E. Wilhite. He was released to the custody of the sheriff who was ordered to produce him in federal district court in Chicago Friday morning.

Miss Yager 'Good'

Miss Elizabeth Yager, 26, of 26 Pearl street, who was injured Saturday morning when a car in which she was riding plunged down an embankment in the vicinity of the Avalon restaurant on Route 28, was reported in "fairly good" condition today at Kingston Hospital.

Illness costs the United States $28,000,000,000 a year.

Efforts Are Made To Revive GOC In New Paltz

Efforts are being made to reactivate the New Paltz Ground Observer Corps, The Freeman learned today.

The observation post, which has been inactive for some time, may be reopened if a local organization can be persuaded to make it a project, it was reported.

If such arrangements can be made it is hoped to dedicate the post during Civil Defense Week, Sept. 9-15.

Clifford Van Valkenburgh, Jr., town of New Paltz Civil Defense director, is meeting with the New Paltz VFW next week at which time he will present the plan and seek assistance of the organization in putting the post across, it was reported.

The observation post is located on top of the village garage back of the municipal building.

Javits Hits Rumors

New York, Aug. 30 (AP) — Atty. Gen. Jacob K. Javits, a candidate for the Republican senatorial nomination, said today "vicious rumors" were being spread about him to block his chances. But he declined to say whether he intended to appear before the Senate Internal Security subcommittee headed by Sen. James O. Eastland (D-Minn.) to refute the rumors.

Search Called Off

New York, Aug. 30 (AP) — Search for a plane supposedly about to crash land in the darkness early today was called off after several hours by officials who said they were convinced radio messages for help were a hoax. The search by helicopter, boats and police was touched off by radio appeals in a woman's voice announcing her plane was running out of gas and she would be forced to land in the vicinity of Floyd Bennett Field, Brooklyn. A coast guard helicopter, two picket boats and two police launches could find no trace of a plane either crashed or in distress, and the coast guard, convinced the message was a hoax, called off the search.

Brick Kiln Shed Damaged by Fire

A one-story kiln shed of the Star Brick Corp., North street, was damaged by fire last night, and firemen reported the third local false alarm within two days.

Cornell station, Union and Cordts hose companies responded to an alarm at 11:10 p. m. for the shed fire, and Deputy Fire Chief Harold A. Sanford called for the Wicks company lighting unit after he arrived at the fire.

The shed was badly damaged, but not destroyed. Two pump streams were used on the blaze, which was of undetermined origin.

The last of three false alarms reported here in two days was at 3:14 a. m., today and was sounded from Box 5541, at Flatbush and Clifton avenues.

Another was sounded at 10:35 p. m., yesterday from Box 2111, Chambers streeet at No. 3 School. Another was sounded at 10:39 p. m., Tuesday from Box 2421, Delaware avenue and Hanratty street.

NATO to Discuss Canal Problem

London, Aug. 30 (AP) — The British foreign office announced tonight the North Atlantic Council will meet in Paris next week to consider the Suez Canal dispute.

Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd will be Britain's representative at this hurriedly arranged meeting of NATO's top body. A foreign office spokesman said the meeting will open Wednesday.

The announcement came as the first elements of French troops assigned to Cyprus were reported to have arrived by air. Usually reliable sources said others were moving to the British bastion in the eastern Mediterranean by an armada of requisitioned ships.

DRESSES ALIKE?

"Recently I bought an expensive and very different dress. After having worn it and having received many compliments because of it, a friend of mine asked where I had bought it. I refused to tell her, saying the reason I bought the dress was because it was different and there were only two or three of this particular model. She was quite surprised at my attitude and told friends that she thought I was very rude and selfish. Because we do have many friends in common, I felt I was justified in not telling her. Was I wrong in handling the situation as I did?"

No you were not. The person who was rude was your friend. It is never considered good manners to copy a friend whom you see a great deal—in fact, you try to avoid it.

Not Invited

Dear Mrs. Post: A friend of mine is to be married in three weeks and I understand the invitations have been sent out, but I did not receive one. I can't understand it as she has spoken to me often of her forthcoming wedding and from what she said, I took it for granted that I was to be among the invited guests. Will you please tell me if there is anything I can do about this? I would not dream of going to the wedding without an invitation, and yet, on the other hand, if an invitation was sent, and lost, she might think it strange that I did not go to her wedding.

Answer: If it is a large wedding and she a really intimate friend, you would ask her, of course. But if it is a very small wedding and she is only an acquaintance, you should not ask her and you would not go to the wedding.

* * *

Is it good manners to cut a leafy salad with a knife? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Her leaflet E-19, "Table Rules of Importance," answers this and many other questions. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Stove-pipe cloche (upper left) is in capucine velours set on a roll-brim of peach-toned velvet. This is by Chanda. John Frederics' high toque of peacock blue furry-surfaced felt (center) is inset with bands of navy velvet ribbon. From Christian Dior's American collection comes this swan cap (upper right) of snowy white plumage in a rounded pillbox with two forward-curving wings. Walter Florell's "Irene Castle" cloche (lower left) is caramel felt, has high-draped crown of caramel-and-white pin-striped velvet. Furry white felt is used by Chanda (center) for this high-crowned, squared cloche corded in white satin and sparkling with rhinestone pin. YM Schedule Of Activities

Throughout the whole summer Frank Robello, YMCA youth director and registered Red Cross swimming instructor, had as many as 300 pupils, both boys and girls. The boys had their lessons on Tuesday and Thursday and the girls Wednesday and Fridays. On Wednesday nights, he taught the women's class of which their were 37 which had enrolled.

The pupils who passed their minnow or beginners test were Paul Richards, Hank Barton, James Harrington, William Kennock, Donald Van Keuren, Frank Sperling, John McGarry, N. Troeber, Michelo Bowra, Robert Jaenisch, Susan Wallace, Jeanne McElrath, Linda Byrne, Gail Lawrence, Leslie Lawrence, Teresa Steltz, Faith Gersback, Marian Maggiore, Russell Glass, Sandra Grier, Carlann Matson, Don Scism, Jim Scism, Melvin Higgins, Bill Fatum, Linda Cooper, Jean McDermott, Lelia Snidden, Robin Hammond, Penelope Ross, Wendy Burke, Susan Bodenweber.

The youth director lauded the youngsters who passed their tests and complimented others who failed. "It's a tough test," he said "and those who did not pass did their best and will do even better the next time."

Director Rebollo pointed out the various stages of swimming instructions to his charges including advancement from one class to another. He listed these as:

All pupils began in Class A when enrolled for lessons.

WHEN PUPILS were able to do a pron float glide they were promoted to Class B. In Class B the pupil was taught to kick properly and control his breathing. When they completed this phase they went to Class C. In Class C they learned to float on their backs and kick and to be able to relax completely since this was the resting position for all tired swimmers. When they completed that phase they were promoted to Class D. In Class D they learned stroking, rhymatic breathing, and coordination of both. When they were able to do this phase they were advanced to class E where they learned to dive, and practice all these phases for the test in deep water. Rebollo said when pupils reached Class E they had confidence in themselves to take the test but he had them practise until he thought they were ready for the final test. Though several did not reach Class E they did reach a certain level and know where to continue.

Jones Dairy Edges Nadlers, 5-4, to Gain Playoff Finals

Gatti's Throw Nails Tying Run at Plate

Final Series Starts Saturday at Stadium

Right fielder Phil Gatti of the Jones Dairy and Kingston Colonials nines has a well founded reputation as the best throwing outfielder in these parts.

Gatti put his strong right wing on display in a crucial moment last night at Dietz Stadium and it moved Jones Dairy into the post-seasonal playoff finals against Watzkas Saturday night.

(The Jones Dairy-Watzka contest will be part of a twi-night doubleheader. Kingston Colonials will play the Brooklyn Windsors in the second game in a regular New York-New Jersey League contest. Both games can be seen for one admission price of fifty cents, Manager Fred Davi said.)

WITH JONES Dairy leading Nadler Motors 5 to 4 and one out in the ninth, in the rubber game of a best-of-three series, Gatti scooped up Frank Secreto's single in right field and unleashed a great throw to the plate to cut down Bill Haber at the plate. A moment later Clark Mains got Johnny Godwin for the third out on a pop fly to nail down the victory.

Mains got the decision over Jim Ferraro and Haber with a seven hitter in a hectic contest. He fanned five.

The Dairymen sewed up the game with a three-run cluster when they drove Ferraro to cover in the fifth. A walk to Tom Carlino, Jim Jackson's chalkline double to right and singles by Ronnie Ashdown, Nippy Jones and Mike Carlino generated the rally.

A COUPLE of errors by first baseman Boo Schaeffer helped Nadlers to a couple of runs in the third.

Ashdown picked up Frank Secreto's nubber in front of the plate and threw to first base where Secreto knocked the ball out of Schaffer's hand.

Steve Cea launched Nadlers last ditch rally with a triple in the seventh. He held third while Haber beat out an infield safety. Ferraro's sacrifice moved Haber to second but Cea had to hold third. Secreto then lashed his right to right which scored Cea but Gatti's clothesline throw to the plate nailed Haber. Then Godwin popped out.

Mike Carlino drilled three singles and Ronnie Ashdown and Nippy Jones had two apiece for the Dairymen. Cea clouted a single in addition to his triple for Nadlers.

Yonkers Enters Round of Four In Legion Finals

Bismarck, S. D., Aug. 30 (AP)—Four top-ranking American Legion junior baseball teams start showing their wares here Sunday to decide which wears the crown in the annual teenagers classic.

Yonkers, N. Y., New Orleans and St. Louis occupy three of the berths. The fourth participant is being decided this afternoon at Billings, Mont., between Roseburg, Ore., and Hastings, Neb., in Section D after the rainout of their championship contest last night.

St. Louis got into the tourney with a 26-4 shellacking of St. Paul, Minn., in a Section C game, shortened two innings by rain, at Bloomington, Ill., last night. Yonkers won its Section A title earlier this week, as did New Orleans in Section B.

Tournament starter will be an afternoon contest between St. Louis and the winner of the Roseburg-Hastings game. Sunday night Yonkers meets New Orleans in the double elimination event.

Two more games are on tap Labor Day and night, and Tuesday and Wednesday nights plus another, if necessary. Thursday night.

Hoad Takes Aim On Grand Slam

Forest Hills, N. Y., Aug. 30 (AP)—Lew Hoad, Australia's blond blaster who is shooting for a grand slam in the National tennis championships starting tomorrow, rates his roomie, Ken Rosewall, the man to beat.

The big Davis Cup ace, who already has won the Australian, French and Wimbledon titles, has learned through the years to be a diplomat.

Yes, he thinks the Americans offer a strong challenge in Vic Seixas, Ham Richardson and Co.

But as to the toughest man in the draw:

"ROSEWALL," he admitted today almost apologetically. "Kenny has improved greatly since he was beaten by Richardson in the eastern championships a couple of weeks ago.

"After winning the Newport tournament, I wondered if he'd let down in the National doubles, but he was absolutely terrific. I'm not discounting Richardson and Seixas, but I imagine if I get to the final, I'll face Rosewall."

In past years, newsmen rarely have gotten more than a cheerful smile out of Hoad and the rest of the Aussie contingent. They had been under orders by Harry Hopman, their Davis Cup coach, to discuss nothing more than the weather and not too much of that.

Perry's Nip Hilltop, 4-3, for City Softball Title

Venuti, Perry Get Win Over Frank Boyce

Perry's nailed down the 1956 City Softball League pennant with a 4-3 squeaker over Hilltop and Frank Boyce in a 4½-inning playoff yesterday.

The winners reached the Hilltop pitching ace for single tallies in each of the first four innings.

A HEROIC three inning pitching stint by Jo Venuti helped the Perry cause. Venuti tossed the three frames, although hampered from the effects of a shoulder separation he suffered several weeks ago.

Carlo Perry finished up and was nicked for two Hilltop runs in the fourth inning.

Orlando Felipe slammed two singles and Leiry had a triple for the winners. Davis stroked two hits for Perry's.

Webb Explodes Calhoun Myth

Chicago, Aug. 30 (AP)—Spider Webb, a clever sharpshooter who once was a national collegiate boxing champion at Idaho State College, is the newest sensation to burst upon the middleweight scene.

Webb, 24, scored a unanimous 10-round decision last night over previously unbeaten Rory Calhoun of New York, 22-year-old son of an Atlanta, Ga., Baptist minister.

The nationally televised scrap was a slam-bang affair from the opening bell, with the powerful Calhoun wading in for knockout blows and the nimble Webb using his rights and left like an epee.

THE VICTORY, before a whooping Chicago Stadium audience of 1,849, which contributed to a gross gate of $2,298, earned Webb a late October shot at the winner of the Bobby Boyd-Joey Giardello clash in Cleveland Sept. 21. The bout will be at Chicago Stadium probably Oct. 31, with the winner being lined up for a title chance.

Webb, who now lives near Chicago with his wife and family, hypoed his record to 16 victories in 17 starts and his 13th straight.

Calhoun, who had a weight pull of 162 pounds to 156½, suffered his first loss in 24 fights. But it was close all the way.

Holiday Meet Gets Notre Dame

Eastern College Athletic Conference, sponsors of the Holiday Festival basketball tournament at Madison Square Garden, announced yesterday that Notre Dame would compete in the Dec. 25-29 tournament.

The Irish had been slated to play in the Sugar Bowl tournament that week but withdrew along with St. Louis University and Dayton because of the Louisiana segregation law which forbids Negro and white players to compete against each other.

Seven ECAC teams already in the fold include Manhattan, NYU, Fordham, Niagara, St. John's, Temple and Villanova.

Antler-less Deer Season on Dec. 1

Deer of either sex may be hunted in 32 New York counties on Dec. 1, with Ulster county excluded, the State Conservation Department said in Albany today.

Department game technicians recommended the special one-day season "in the interest of the welfare of the deer herd, agricultural and forestry interests and the sportmen of the state," the department said.

The department pointed out that, under the law, the regular deer season will end at the close of the special day. The season was to have extended to Dec. 4 in some counties.

Deer of either sex may be hunted Dec. 1 in the counties of Allegany, Broome, Cattaraugus, Cayuga, Chautauqua, Chemung, Chenango, Cortland, Delaware, Genesee, Livingston, Madison, Niagara, Onondaga, Ontario, Orleans, Otsego, Seneca, Schoharie, Schuyler, Steuben, Tioga, Tompkins, Wayne, Wyoming and Yates.

The season wil be in effect in parts of Albany, Erie, Herkimer, Monroe, Oneida and Oswego counties.

The general territorial exceptions to this year's antler-less deer season, besides Ulster county, are Montgomery and Schenectady counties, and all counties in the northern zone; all mid-state counties east of the Hudson river; the Catskill area counties of Greene and Sullivan and counties of the lower Hudson district including those on Long Island.

Other top drivers scheduled to run include Joe Messina of Troy, Dick Place and Bill Secor of Poughkeepie; Ray Demolin of Rhinebeck; Merwin Hummel of Saugerties and others.

Harry Grayson's SCOREBOARD

When the Detroit Football Club passed its 1955 audit around to stockholders, one item pointed out, better than any alibis, the reasons for a last place finish.

"Medical and dental bill," it read, "$15,505."

The repair bill for the 1954 Western Conference champions and runners-up for the league title was only $7,698.

It is because of this that Nick Kerbawy and Buddy Parker are more than normally enthusiastic about the presence of Howard Cassady in their backfield. The first requisite of a professional football player is the ability to remain in the thick of the roughest going.

"Hopalong Cassady has a history of being available," says General Manager Kerbawy. "After last season, we can use anybody like that. This is a strong-bodied kid. He doesn't know what the inside of a hospital looks like. All you have to do is look at his Ohio State record to know that."

The Lions were through contact work when Cassady reported to them at Eastern Michigan College in Ypsilanti after the All-Star Game, but nobody seemed to have any doubts about his ability to take a slamming by the awesome-sized pros.

"It's the big question to me," Cassady insisted. "I have to find out if I can carry through the line and get free of one of those big guys when there's a chance. And I don't know what's going to happen when they whomp me. I'd say it is a big question mark."

* * *

KERBAWY TELLS YOU that this is nonesense.

"So he is only 180 pounds," Nick says. "So what? He'll shoot through anybody if the chance is there. They hit him as hard as they can and he just gets up and starts over again. There isn't a doubt in anybody's mind about him."

Coach Parker agrees.

"I know enough about him. Scrimmages and exhibition games will only teach him something. They won't be any test of whether he will make it up here or not. He passed all the tests.

"He is not going to wind up being a punt return specialist or spot pass catcher. He's a starting halfback. Of course, he'll handle punt returns for us. That only makes sense."

Cassady straightened that out in his first exhibition game—against the Steelers. Used sparingly because he knew only a few of the basic plays, the Lions gave him a couple of blocks on one punt return and the Steelers still are trying to catch him. Hoppy went 61 yards.

* * *

FOR THE PROFESSIONALS to talk this way is rare. The books are filled with college All-Americas who tried to dent a pro line and wound up using their higher education to land jobs with accounting firms.

The step-up to a game where anybody under 200 pounds is a freak can be brutal for some. They find their free-wheeling college style invites temporary blackouts when aimed at some spare-toothed tackle.

Cassady, in playing against the Browns and Steelers on a brief basis, noted this immediately.

"They go to make a tackle up here," he says. "They make it. Cut and dried. There seems to be no chance that the guy will make a sloppy tackle and give you room to get away."

The only surprise Howard Cassady seems to have given the Lions is in the open department you wouldn't expect.

"We never knew he was this fast," Buddy Parker says. "We knew he was a strong, smart kid with all the moves. But I never though he could get going like he does."

Mrs. Elwyn and Miss Kennedy Tie in Wiltwyck Tournament

Mrs. Hugh R. Elwyn and Miss Agnes Kennedy posted net 38s to tie for first place in the combined Class A and B handicap tournament at the Wiltwyck Country Club.

Mrs. Matthew Dietschman won second place with a net 39.

In the odd-hole competition for Class C golfers, Mrs. Bernard Carpinelli and Mrs. Louis Provenzano tied for first place. Mrs. Michael Mattia was second.

Lewis Leads NLL Hitters on .461

Jack Lewis of the Hiltebrant Pirates led National Little League batsmen with a robust .461 average for the 1956 season, according to official statistics announced today.

Bill Murphy of the championship Indians was runnerup with .450 and Richie Hoffman of the Tigers clubbed at a .446 pace. Freeman Woods (.440) of the Tigers, Bill Reid (.429) of the Braves; Joe Cavano (.413) Indians and Richie Sickler (.406), Indians, completed the .400 group.

Other leading hitters included Tom Fiore .389, Bill Boice .389, Joe Clausi .375, Tony Spada .341, Frank Bonavita .333, Charles Davide .333, Horace Walker .318, Leroy Hatcher .297, Bob Jaenisch .268, Jack Darwak .263, Len Mills .256, Joe Longendyke .255.

Bill Murphy and Richie Sickler tied for home run honors with five.

Souchak, Furgol in Motor City Field

Detroit, Aug. 30 (AP)—A bulky field of 126 professional golfers tees off today in quest of $20,000 in prize money as the sixth Motor City Open gets under way at the Western Golf and Country Club.

Dr. Cary Middlecoff will not be on hand to defend the title he won in 1954, but such ranking performers as Mike Souchak, Doug Ford, Julius Boros and Ed Furgol assure an all-out battle for the top prize of $4,000.

Pirates Latest to Protest Burdette's Alleged Spitter

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

"Spit," the word Ted Williams hoisted out of the gutter into $5,000 headlines, now becomes a controversy in the already hectic National League pennant race. Does Lew Burdette use it, or doesn't he while pitching the Milwaukee Braves into championship contention?

The second-place Brooklyn Dodgers, Cincinnati's third-place Redlegs and the fourth-running St. Louis Cardinals have insisted all along that the big righthander throws the outlawed "spitter." And now the Pittsburgh Pirates have taken up the cry.

Manager Bobby Bragan, pitcher Dick Hall and infielder Dick Cole bellowed so loud and long in demands that the umpires take repeated looks at the ball that they were thrown off the bench and out of last night's game. The umps did investigate the ball, several times, but kept it in play; and Burdette, losing his shutout in the ninth after a 53-minute rain delay, won his 17th, 4-1, on Joe Adcock's tie-breaking three-run homer.

BURDETTE himself denies the "spitter" charge. But if he does use it and should be caught at it, he would face an automatic suspension for 10 days. That could be a killing slip up for the Braves in their run for the pennant.

At the moment, they're just 1½ games ahead of the Dodgers, who disposed of the Chicago Cubs 11-4. Cincinnati is only three games back after fighting off the New York Giants 4-3.

Philadelphia and Robin Roberts outlasted the Cardinals 8-6 in the other NL game.

In the American, Mickey Mantle made up for a three-run error with his 46th home run and a game-winning ninth-inning single as the New York Yankees defeated Kansas City 7-6. Second place Cleveland stayed eight games back with a 3-2 decision over Baltimore. The Chicago White Sox defeated Washington 9-7, and Boston's Red Sox beat Detroit 4-2.

The Pirates, who rallied to upset the Braves Tuesday night, had just four hits off Burdette with two out in the ninth, then got three straight singles from Dale Long, Roberto Clemente and Dick Groat to tie it at 1-all.

ED MATTHEWS' 33rd homer, off Vernon Law, gave the Braves a 1-0 edge in the second inning. In the ninth, Hank Aaron and Mathews were on base when Adcock unloaded his 34th home run against losing reliefer Elroy Face. Burdette, who struck out five and didn't walk a man, has lost eight.

The Dodgers needed no last minute heroics. Roy Campanella, with five runs batted in, knocked a two-run double as the Brooks scored five in the first against rookie Don Kaiser, and then smacked his 16th homer with two on in the fifth. Carl Erskine won his 12th, tottering through an 11-hitter that included Don Hoak and Gene Baker homers. Duke Snider busted his 37th for the Brooks, upping his NL lead.

Roy McMillan and Johnny Temple, the least robust of the muscular Redlegs, each drove in two runs to beat the Giants and Johnny Antonelli, now 13-13. Art Fowler, relieving Johnny Klippstein when Bill Sarni's two-run homer tied it 3-all in the fifth, won his 10th with three-hit ball.

THE A'S grabbed a 4-0 lead against 17-game winner Johnny Kucks without a hit in the first, and Ed Robinson's solo homer was the only earned run the A's managed for the game. Joe Collins' pinch homer, and singles by Yogi Berra and Mantle completed a three-run Yankee rally that won it in the ninth for reliefer Tom Morgan. Mantle now is four games ahead of Babe Ruth's record-60 pace in 1927.

Lew Burdette

A single and sacrifice fly by Vic Wertz scored the tying and winning runs for the Indians with Don Mossi winning his sixth in relief at Baltimore.

The White Sox had 14 hits, including five doubles and a triple, but Jim Wilson just did manage to end his eight-game losing streak with relief help from Ellis Kinder when the Senators scored six in the ninth.

Dick Gernert drove in three runs as Boston's young Tom Brewer won his 17th on the fourth try. Ike Delock nailed it with two innings of hitless, three-strikeout relief. Billy Hoeft lost his 12th.

Phoenicia Drubs Onteora, 29-4 In Series Opener

Phoenicia scored in six straight turns at bat, with a pair of 8-run innings, to drub Onteora, 29-4, in the opener of the Olive softball series yesterday.

The best-of-three series shifts to Phoenicia this evening.

While Bunk Grant was checking the Indians on seven hits, three by Hand Diamond, the Phoenicians clobbered four Onteora flingers for 21 safeties.

Jack Quinn was the batting hero for Phoenicia with two homers and a double and Ted Jensen slapped two doubles and a single.

Pat Sangaline homered for the losers.

Sofield struck out eight and walked three. Cubs picked up six off the combined slants of Jerry Howard and Arnie Smith. The latter fanned two.

Indians Walk Out of Tie for Eastern Lead

(By The Associated Press)

The Reading Indians took a walk last night—right out of a first-place tie in the Eastern League.

At the same time, Schenectady's Blue Jays were running into sole possession of the top spot.

The Indians' pitching staff gave up 10 walks in the first game of a doubleheader with Binghamton to help the host Triplets to a 7-4 seven-inning victory. Three crucial passes in the 11th inning of the nightcap enabled the Trips to gain a 4-3 triumph.

Schenectady won a pair from last-place Johnstown, whipping the Johnnies 3-2 in the opener and 7-6 in a 10-frame affair at Schenectady.

ALBANY and Williamsport split a twin bill at Albany. The hosts lost the opener by a 4-3 margin and salvaged the night with a victory by the same score. Syracuse notched its fourth in a row edging Allentown, 5-1 in Syracuse. The second game of the scheduled doubleheader was cancelled because of rain.

Binghampton grabbed only three hits off Reading pitching in the first game, but capitalized on 10 walks and two hit batsmen for the win.

Charles Kalakowski, Indians' pitcher, loaded the bases with three walks, including two intentionals, in the Binghamton half of the 11th inning. Hal Charnofsky slapped a single to give the Trips a sweep of the twin bill.

Bob Conley racked up his 13th victory of the season for Schenectady in the abbreviated opener.

By WARREN PAGE
Shooting Editor

New cartridges don't come down the pike to set the rifle shooters gabbing too often. Surely they don't ordinarily come in pairs. But the near-twins your shooting scribe fostered, the .243 Winchester and .244 Remington, have really upset precedent.

Ever since we announced their arrival on the scene a year ago, the gun bugs have been yakking about them with pleased abandon. Better and more to the point, they've been shooting 'em!

A few days back I began to boil down into a useful form a great stack of letters from 6 mm. shooters telling of their game kills. There never has been any doubt but that the .243 bullet could be made to outshoot the .22 centerfire and most of the .25 calibers when it came to varmint performance.

MATTERS of flat trajectory and high retained speeds so that bullets buck the wind better and make hitting easy had long ago been proved by the wildcatters. This past year of experience with the factory rifles and cartriges has only borne that out. As varmint loads they're on top of the heap.

But what of larger critters, whitetail deer, antelope, javilina, mule deer, what we might term medium large game? Does a 90- or 100-grain bullet of this caliber pack enough swift and swat to bring them down cleanly? Are they hunting cartridges or suited only to varmints?

Well, by the time I had read the accounts of a hundred or so of these 6 mm. kills, it looked like time to concede the election. They are game cartridges, definitely adequate for critters up to and including deer.

OVER 70 per cent of the kills reported so far were one-shotters, mercifully instant kills in that the antelope or buck either pitched over in his tracks or staggered for less than 25 yards. There were evident differences in the expansion performance of various bullets used, but that's a normal thing.

The big point is that there were mighty few trail-ups, only a finger-count of instances where a wounded animal had to be trailed more than 100 yards or so. That means fast, efficient game-dropping—and that's what every true sportsman wants when he sets out after a buck.

THERE ARE reasons for this which have nothing to do with high retained energies out where the game is standing. The real reasons are that with the minimum recoil, high inherent accuracy and a strong flat trajectory these 6's are a cinch to hit with.

Game animals don't drop with any load unless they are hit and hit properly. Just seems this is easier to do with the .453 or .244. And that's why the gun world is still yakking away about the twins in their first birthday.

Two Convicts Blamed

Montgomery, Ala., Aug. 30 (AP)—Kilby prison officials today considered filing manslaughter charges against two convicts who escaped yesterday in a dump truck carrying 28 other prisoners. After a wild chase with a guard shooting at the tires from a pursuing truck, the truck load of "maximum security" convicts overturned. Two of the passengers were killed and 13 injured, one seriously. Guards rounded up the group without trouble and returned them to the state prison just outside of Montogomery. Egypt Seeks Pilots

New York, Aug. 30 (AP)—The Egyptian government advertised here today for pilots to guide ships through the Suez Canal at wages up to more than $1,400 a month. Egypt took over ownership of the canal July 26. It had been run by the Suez Canal Co., a private business organization dominated by British and French interests. Most of the canal pilots had been British or French. After Egypt nationalized the canal many failed to return from home leaves and vacations. Egypt was said to need 200 more pilots to keep traffic normal through the canal, and has been advertising abroad in an effort to get them.

Wyman-Gordon's giant Air Force Press, largest in the world, designed and built by Loewy-Hydropress, exerts 50,000-ton pressure to forge aircraft parts.

It takes a GIANT to make a lasting impression

It takes the power of a giant machine to make a perfect impression on any metal. It takes the power of a giant medium to make a permanent impression on any market. That medium is the newspaper, a giant who lives in every town.

The newspaper is a massive force in advertising because it carries the weight of public confidence. People believe in their newspapers, eagerly look for them and shop from them every day. Over 56,000,000 are bought daily, an all-time high.

In no other medium can local retailers, wholesalers and distributors tie in so effectively with the companies whose products they sell. That's one of the reasons why all advertisers spent $3,070,000,000 last year in newspapers.

If you want to engrave a lasting advertising impression, use the newspaper. It reaches further, digs deeper, lasts longer. Step up your newspaper advertising and you'll step up your sales.

All business is local... and so are all newspapers.

Rotary Enjoys Memory Expert At Ladies' Day

Irv Wermont's "Psychology in Action" program was enjoyed thoroughly at Kingston Rotary Ladies' Day held Wednesday at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Mr. Wermont demonstrated in an amazing way that by employing mnemonics—the science that enables anyone to improve his memory—you can learn how to remember hundreds of names, important dates, material for an address, telephone numbers and price lists.

One of his displays proving that "you can do it with shorthand of the mind" was the calling by name of some 100 Rotarians and Rotary Anns, whom he had visited briefly during the luncheon.

In another astounding memory feat, he named the contents of any page, referred to him by page number, from a popular magazine of this week's edition. In this exhibition he quoted from the text of the story appearing on the page and described the advertisement and their illustrations and gave the prices in the ads and also the manufacturer's code number.

Other memory exercises were employed to show how informative psychological principles can be used in our daily lives.

President Sabin welcomed the Rotary Anns and other guests and announced that another Rotary Ann event would be held the last week in October.

Plans were outlined for a Rotary Auction to be held September 26.

Scooter Hazard

Easton, Pa. (AP)—Riding on a motor scooter has its hazards. Just ask 19-year-old Bruce Sottolano. Bruce stopped his scooter at an intersection and a dog ran into the road and bit him on the left leg. He was treated at Easton Hospital for six puncture wounds.

FAN MAIL—KING SIZE — Hollywood actress Kim Novak stands behind what may well be the world's largest postcard. Her admirers in Anderson, Ind., sent the 40-by-60-inch card to her after thousands signed their names to it. The postage charge was $3.93.

Publishers Oppose Press Rates Hike For Western Union

Washington, Aug. 30 (AP)—The American Newspaper Publishers Assn. (ANPA) contends that a boost in press telegram rates would not add to revenues of the Western Union Telegraph Co.

The ANPA filed with the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) yesterday a formal protest against Western Union's plan to raise its press rates 8.22 per cent effective Sept. 14. No public hearing was asked.

Contending that an increase in rates would cause a drop in the company's press business, the ANPA said newspapers already "are being forced to seek other cheaper methods of communications." It recalled four previous rate increase since 1950, and said if the new boost is permitted, rates will be 45 per cent higher than six years ago.

The FCC made a 9.6 per cent increase in rates to the general public effective last Monday. It also was the fifth in six years.

The ANPA is composed of more than 800 daily newspapers having more than 90 per cent of the total daily circulation in the country. A similar individual protest was filed by E. S. Pulliam Jr., managing editor of the Indianapolis News.

Hail Target Areas Well Protected, Crop Service Says

A summary of the hail suppression program in the Newburgh area was presented at a recent meeting of the Hudson Valley Crop Service Cooperative Association in Milton.

It was reported that 75 or 80 generators had been strategically placed in the lower part of the county in so-called "hail target areas."

A total of 33 storms were located by radar in Red Hook, 17 originating from the southwest, three from the south, five from the north, four from the northwest and four from the northwest.

Since the majority of the storms were located in the southwest area, additional generators have been placed to assist in the further protection of hail target areas, especially Milton, Marlborough, New Paltz, Clintondale and Dutchess county.

Walter Schreiber of Red Hook, president of the cooperative association, reported that members must meet their financial obligations if the program is to operate for another year.

Show Me

Memphis, Tenn. (AP) — Little Mickey Arledge, who is 4, is a lad who has to be shown. When he saw a dog the other day he cried to his mother, Mrs. Flora Arledge: "Look at that big ole hound dog!" "That's not a hound, Mickey," said his mother. "It a birddog." Mickey eyed her skeptically. "Lemme see him fly," he said.

$2 Million Asked In Ship Sinking

New York, Aug. 30 (AP)—The Swedish American Line wants two million dollars in damages from the Italian Line for the collision of the Stockholm and Andrea Doria last July 25.

SOME 50 persons died or are still unaccounted for in the crash off Nantucket island which sank the 29,000-ton Italian Liner Doria.

Both lines have filed actions accusing each other of being at fault. The Italian Line is suing the Swedish Line for 25 million dollars.

The Swedish Line asked in Federal Court yesterday that the Italian Line be held responsible for "all sums which the claimant (Swedish Line) may be called upon to pay to any other person for debts, damages, injuries or losses sustained in the crash..."

THE SWEDISH concern estimates it will cost a million dollars to get the Stockholm back in shape, and that loss of earnings from the vessel's being laid up amounts to another million.

As for individual claims against the two lines, a Federal Court ruling has set Sept. 11 as the deadline for filing against the Swedish lines and Sept. 18 for filing against the Italian Line.

Average speed of U. S. freight trains is 18.6 miles per hour. This includes loss of time for switching cars in and out of the train.
